POW Talks Near Final Collapse; Reds Bar Korean Truce Session

ACTIVE PILOT AT 91. James W. Montee, of Los Angeles, observes his 91st birthday by piloting a 12-passenger amphibian plane to Catalina Island and back. Called the world's oldest pilot, Montee took with him on the flight four generations of his family. Special U.S. Envoy Runs Into Trouble

Communists Insist Neutrals Must Sit In; Dean Still 'Hopeful'

PANMUNJOM (AP)—The Communists today raised an immediate threat to the success of preliminary Korean peace talks at their opening session by demanding the admission of neutral nations to the big talks—a proposal opposed by the United States.

Despite the ominous first day of the preliminary talks, Arthur Dean, the U. S. ambassador representing the U. N., expressed hope that an agreement could be hammered out and 'a political conference will be held.'"

Immediate Disagreement

Dean and the Communists ran together head on over an agenda for the preliminary talks. The Reds insisted on discussing composition of the political conference as the first item on the agenda for this meeting.

Dean as no authority to negotiate the makeup of the political conference. He can discuss only administrative matters, time and place.

The preliminary talks lasted one hour and 15 minutes. The negotiators meet again tomorrow.

The Reds were represented by Huang Hua, counsellor of the Chinese Communist Foreign Affairs Ministry, and Ki Sok Bok, who holds the same position in North Korea.

Adopts Same Line

The North Korean hastily opened the meeting with a prepared statement demanding the admission of neutrals—particularly Asian neutrals—to the political conference. The Chinese representative immediately echoed the arguments.

Dean merely noted the Red statements and in answer proposed that the conference get started Nov. 23. He proposed an agenda listing time and place as the first order of business in the preliminary talks.

He told the Reds that the United States would like to see the peace conference held at Honolulu, San Francisco or Geneva.

He said he wouldn't insist on any of those cities but he ruled out a meeting in Communist territory.

Door Left Open

The United Nations agenda left the door open for later discussion of who should attend the conference talks. It listed "other matters" as the last item for discussion.

Newsmen were allowed to watch much of the first session and the impression was voiced that although the North Koreans were doing most of the talking, the Chinese Communists were again running the show, as they did in the long armistice discussions at Panmunjom.

After the meeting Dean said he would not agree "to composition being the first item discussed."

He told newsmen he was not surprised that the Reds brought the matter up immediately. He said of the meeting in general:

"Most of the discussion was the usual broken record of Communist harangue we are accustomed to listen to for hours on end in the United Nations."

"Our position is precisely what it was before we started," he said.

Dean reiterated that he would relay to Washington and America's allied in Korea the summaries of the meetings and Red proposals.

The agenda proposed by Dean listed time, place, administrative matters and other matters, in that order.

ACCUSED OF SLAYING American OSS Maj. William Holohan while he was on a mission behind German lines in 1944, these Italian wartime partisans are manacled as they go on trial in Novara, Italy. They are Georgi Migliori Aminta (left), Gualtiero Tozzini (partly hidden), and Giuseppe Mannini. On trial in absentia for connection with the crime are two Americans: Carl Lodolce, of Rochester, N. Y., and Lt. Aldo Icardi, of Pittsburgh. The major was poisoned and shot.

Repatriation Commission In Open Split

Situation Serious, Chairman Reports After 2-Hour Debate

PANMUNJOM (AP) — The strife-torn Communist efforts to persuade 22,400 ex-Red soldiers to go home appeared near an end today, stymied by an open split in the prisoner repatriation commission over whether to force the POWs to listen to the Red persuasion.

Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya, Indian chairman of the commission, said tonight the commission's chances of success in its mission are "very small."

Fruitless Debate

"The situation is now very serious," Thimayya told newsmen after a two-hour commission meeting debate on a letter stating the rival Communist and non-Communist views.

Thimayya said the letter would not be made public for several days.

Observers have speculated that the Communists may be seeking a way out of the explanations since two days of talks with 931 Chinese won only 21 prisoners back to the Red fold.

The commission is split over whether to force the prisoners to listen to the Red interviews. Red satellites Poland and Czechoslovakia walked out once to enforce their demands that the POWs be made to listen, at gunpoint if necessary. Sweden and Switzerland have just as stubbornly refused to approve the use of force.

Sides Against Reds

India's Thimayya effectively has sided against the Reds, ruling that force cannot be used unless the commission agrees to it unanimously.

Thimayya said he preserved a "modest" draft describing the rival stands of the Communist and free world members, but it was not accepted at the commission meeting.

Instead, a subcommittee representing all five nations will work on a new letter that will explain the disagreement from the start of the commission.

CPL. EDWARD DICKENSON, of Big Stone Gap, Va., is shown after he was officially turned over to the American authorities at Panmunjom, Korea. He was the first of 23 American prisoners of war to change his mind. Dickenson said he had enough of life under the Reds. As a gesture of renunciation, he crumples in his clenched fist the cigarettes given him by the Communists, preparatory to reaching for a pack of American cigarettes (on table).

Explains Delayed Repatriation

Wanted To Get Evidence Against Reds, GI Claims

TOKYO (AP) — A young soldier from the hills of Virginia said today he refused repatriation from a Communist prison camp so he could gather evidence to prove to the people of America the Communists "are rotten to the core."

Cpl. Edward S. Dickenson, 23, remained behind with 22 other Americans when most Allied war captives were repatriated at the end of the Korean fighting.

Leaves Compound

Last Wednesday he left the compound north of Panmunjom where the others are still awaiting explanations about why they should come home. He told the Indian guards he had changed his mind—that he wanted to be repatriated.

Dickenson held a news conference at Tokyo Army Hospital to explain why he had stayed behind—and why he asked the Indians to let him come home.

Dickenson said he never believed in communism, though the other Americans in Prison Camp 5 at Pyoktong, North Korea, considered him a "progressive" who cooperated with the Chinese Reds.

He said he wanted to learn all he could about the Communists so he could "get revenge for what they did to me and my buddies."

'Played Along'

"I just thought I would play along with them and get even with them. I didn't intend to go to China," he said.

"I am going to expose everything about the Communists. I have no use for them. I am going to do everything I can to avenge the death of my buddies in prison camp. . . .

"They (the Communists) are rotten to the core."

Dickenson said the Communists promised him and the other 22 Americans that if they stayed behind they would have "plenty of women, a good home and could go to school to take up any studies."

The Reds also promised the men they could go to China or Russia or any Communist country, Dickenson said.

In about five years, he said the Communists told them, there would be a revolution in the United States. Then, he said, the men who remained behind now were told they would return to the United States and "would be the masters of our own country."

Would Be 'Generals'

Dickenson said some of the men were told that if they went to China and studied communism they could "hold the high position of general" when they came back to the United States, in the revolution.

"The Communist party of the United States would plan out when the revolution would start and we would be shipped back when the time comes," he said.

He said he thought perhaps 10 of the 22 Americans now in Indian custody would decide to be repatriated "if they have proper explanations."

"The Chinese plan to use these men in every way possible," he said. "It would be best if every mother and father and everybody in the United States would urge these men in every way possible to come back. They have a dark future if they go to China."

Clash With Underground

Red German Police War on Terrorism

BERLIN (AP)—West Berlin newspapers say police of the Soviet East Zone have launched a new big manhunt for fighters of the anti-Communist underground and have clashed with them in several gun battles.

An estimated 28 police have been killed or wounded and 16 partisans arrested in the past two weeks as a result of the sweep, centering in wooded areas southeast of here, according to the reports.

2,500 Police Wage Drive

West Berlin's Socialist-edited newspaper Telegraf said yesterday the latest outbreaks reportedly took place in the Cottbus district, near Poland. Der Tag, another West Berlin daily, said 2,500 police converged on the area, 60 miles southeast of here, a week ago.

The papers labeled their reports as unconfirmed.

Western intelligence sources said such clashes as have been officially confirmed "do not indicate that East Germany is on the verge of another June 17 revolt."

Der Tag reported that, as the East German police fanned through the countryside southeast of Berlin, 8,000 police and Soviet troops formed a cordon around the city to block possible escape routes into the Allied sectors.

Poles and Czechs Help

Police, using loudspeaker trucks, were reported to have called on the people of Falkensee, just outside the British sector, to help ferret out "armed murder bands" hidden in nearby woods.

Rumors were that the underground fighters included partisan gangs which had slipped out of Poland and Czechoslovakia and were making their way through the East zone to the safety of political asylum in West Berlin.

The Western intelligence sources said possibly 20 or 30 anti-Red Poles and Czechs had infiltrated East Germany, but it was likely they were in very small groups or traveling alone. Almost certainly such escapees would be armed.

Some East German workers who led last summer's revolt are known, also, to be in hiding.

St. Louis Police Step Up Probe

FBI Arrests Blonde; Lt. Shoulders Quits

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The St. Louis police board today resumed its inquiry into reported discrepancies in police accounts of the Greenlease kidnaping case—an investigation which prompted a veteran officer's resignation.

Lt. Louis Shoulders, credited with breaking the kidnaping case, resigned in a surprise move Saturday, charging the probe had destroyed his reputation as an officer.

He called himself a victim of "character assassination."

In another aspect of the case, the FBI arrested a 29-year-old blonde and said she would be charged today with giving false information to its agents.

The FBI apparently took the action in an attempt to discourage future false tips in its search for the missing $300,000 of the $600,000 ransom money.

Mrs. Elizabeth Eleanor Curti of St. Louis was seized at a small downtown hotel Saturday after reportedly saying she heard a woman acquaintance tell of having seen a "bundle of cash" in a west side apartment.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Herbert H. Freer said Mrs. Curti gave "phony information" on the missing ransom money, but he said she gave no clues on the whereabouts of the money.

U.S. Planning Limited Arms Aid to Japan

State Department Finishing Up Draft Of New Defense Pact

WASHINGTON (AP)—State Department officials hope to conclude this week a military aid arrangement providing U. S. support for the development of a relatively modest Japanese defense force.

Information available on the progress of negotiations so far indicates that in the end neiter side will get all its wants: (1) Japan will not get a large-scale, long-term economic aid program; (2) the United States will not get assurance of as large a defense force as it would like to see in Japan.

Nevertheless, informants said today the talks have basically been satisfactory and should result in substantially increasing Far Eastern security and eventually taking some of the load there off the United States.

The talks opened here Oct. 2 with Hayato Ikeda personal representative, of Premier Shigeru Yoshida, as the chief Japanese negotiator. Meanwhile, discussions toward a formal mutual security pact have been going on in Tokyo. The Tokyo talks were described as being concerned with technical provisions of the pact; those in Washington with major policy decisions.

Secretary of State Dulles, chief architect of the Japanese Peace Treaty, who has long contended Japan sould arm in its own defense, said some time ago he thought the Japanese defense force

Bridges Raps 'One-Package' Arms Budget

Congress Won't Okay 'Camouflaged' Foreign Aid, Senator Declares

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Bridges (R-NH) said today Congress will resist any "camouflage" consolidation of foreign arms assistance with the regular military budget.

Bridges, who heads the Senate Appropriations Committee, said in an interview he is going to insist that military leaders break down any over-all defense budget to show what portion foreign nations will get.

Sees Opposition

"I don't believe Congress will be willing to sacrifice equipment and supplies needed by our own forces to supply our allies abroad," Bridges said. "There must be no camouflaging of the foreign asistance program. Congress must know exactly what percentage is going to other countries."

Eisenhower administration officials are reported to have decided to put the foreign military aid program and the regular armed forces budget into a "one package" request.

While Bridges didn't say so directly, he evidently shared a suspicion of some of his colleagues that this move was designed primarily to make foreign arms outlays more palatable to Congress.

Need for Aid Declining

There have been demands for drastic cuts in the foreign aid program and Sen. George (D-Ga) said over the weekend that Congress ought to refuse to vote any additional economic aid to Europe.

The Federal Reserve Board said over the weekend that free world nations may not be too far from

Strike Cuts Off Milk to N.Y., 12 Million Hit

NEW YORK (AP)—A strike today shut off milk supplies to some 12 million persons in the tri-state New York metropolitan area, but mediators announced new efforts to bring a quick end to the walkout.

The wage-hour dispute came to a head yesterday at 4 p. m. when about 13,000 AFL drivers and plant workers struck 200 companies.

C. J. Blanford, administrator for the New York federal-state milk market, announced today both sides had requested a joint mediation meeting.

Blanford said the session would be held at noon after federal, state and city mediators center separately with the disputants. Blanford is one of the conciliators.

The union, the AFL International Brotherhood of Teamsters, is asking a $15 weekly wage increase for its members and a 35-hour work week instead of the present 40 hours. The union also secks other fringe benefits.

The company representatives, who were reported to have offered boosts of up to $2.10 a week, contend all union demands amount to a $90-a-week package increase for each man. This, they say, would cost the companies an additional 60 millions a year.

United Appeals Report Meeting Slated Tonight

The second report meeting for workers in the 1953-54 Marion County United Appeals Campaign will be held tonight in the YMCA. Mrs. A. B. Augenstein, vice chairman in charge of county solicitation, will preside and speaker will be Mrs. Richard Morgan, who heads the residential solicitation. Music will be by the Salvation Army Band.

The saleswoman bringing in the largest number of signed cards will receive an orchid in recognition of her work.

With better than a third of the $170,462 reported at the first meeting, the campaign workers are hoping to see the goal in sight at tonight's meeting. Cutler A. McGrew, campaign chairman, has urged all workers to get all calls made and contact every person in the city and county.

Among the 100 per cent contributor of management and employe are the Soil Conservation Office, Social Security Office, Office of Internal Revenue, Green Camp, LaRue and Prospect Post offices.

The "dutch treat" dinner tonight will be at 6 o'clock.

U.S. Set To Blast Russian Charges Of Germ Warfare

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The United States loaded one of its heaviest charges today to blast back once and for all at Russian claims Americans used germ warfare in Korea.

The American denial was contained in a lengthy statement that included affidavits from American war prisoners saying their Communist captors tortured them into "confessing" they took part in the alleged germ war. The statement was to be delivered by Dr. Charles W. Mayo, the noted Minneapolis surgeon, who is an alternate U. S. delegate at this session of the U.N. General Assembly.

Mayo was expected to speak this afternoon in the assembly's Political Committee after that 60-nation body had finished its debate and voting on the question of France's administration of her North African protectorate of Tunisia.

FBI Distributing Serial Numbers Of Missing $303,720

WASHINGTON (AP)—The FBI today began nationwide distribution of the serial numbers of the unrecovered portion of the Greenlease kidnaping ransom money.

A total of $600,000 was paid to the kidnapers of little Bobby Greenlease, 6-year-old son of a wealthy Kansas City, Mo., automobile dealer.

Bobby, however, had been killed before the ransom was paid. His body was found in a shallow grave at St. Joseph, Mo.

When Carl Austin Hall, confessed kidnaper and killer of the child, was arrested in St. Louis, only $296,280 was recovered.

The list being distributed by the FBI today contains the serial numbers of the currency making up the remainder of $303,720.

All of the money is in $10 and $20 bills.

The lists are being furnished to banks and other financial institutions, law enforcement agencies and numerous other business concerns.

Altogether, $400,000 of the money was in $20 bills, the remainder in $10 notes.

The two-row championship went to Herbert Salsbury of Atlanta, Ind. Salsbury, who this year grew 135 acres of corn, won the title with 77.9 points. William Friessen of Sioux Falls, captured the one-row championship with 78.1 points.

Homer Conway of Marengo, Ohio, with 70.2 points, took second place in the two-row classificaion. Giles Greenway of Mitchell, S. D., was third with 67.9.

Demand Action by Benson

Cattlemen From 30 States Descend on Washington

WASHINGTON (AP)—Several Hundred cattlemen from 30 states carry directly to a reluctant Secretary of Agriculture Benson today their pleas for prompt new government action to prop up declining cattle prices.

Many of the 350 or more who arrived here yesterday advocated direct price supports of the kind now applied to grains and other farm products but which Benson has said would be extremely difficult to extend to cattle.

Union Sponsors

Chartered buses and private cars brought most of the cattlemen to the capital in a "caravan" sponsored by the National Farmers Union. They arranged to organize this morning, after a welcoming talk by James G. Patton, president of the farm organization.

Benson, who had sought in vain to have Patton call off the mass trip, planned to meet with the delegation in the Agriculture Department auditorium.

One of Many Issues

During a two-day stay here, the cattlemen hoped to draw up recommendations both for emergency aid to distressed producers and for a longer range program of government action. They also advocate further drought assistance.

The cattlemen also arranged to buttonhole members of Congress who were in the city.

This was just a most immediate problem facing Benson, subject of increasing criticism from many

Watchman Accused Of Setting 2 Fires

BALTIMORE (AP)—A hearing was scheduled today for a 38-year-old night watchman charged with arson in two fires at shops he was employed to protect.

Police accused Alton E. Fuhrer of setting a fire Oct. 8 in a garden shop next to the St. James Hotel. They said he reported the fire, notified the night clerk of the hotel, then rushed through the hotel arousing guests.

Some 100 residents were routed out in their bed clothes. No one was hurt and firemen confined the blaze to the garden shop.

Schinagle To Begin Life Term in State Pen on Wednesday

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY — Roy R. Schinagle, 19-year-old Mayfield Heights youth, will begin a life term at the Ohio State Penitentiary in Columbus Wednesday for the murder of his 19-year-old Ohio Wesleyan University sweetheart, Cynthia Pfeil of White Plains, N. Y.

Schinagle pleaded guilty Saturday to second degree murder before Common Pleas Judge Russel F. Kear at Upper Sandusky. The youth had been indicted for first degree murder by the Wyandot County grand jury, but the court accepted Schinagle's plea of guilty to the lesser charge upon recommendation from Prosecuting Attorney Harold Roth.

Roth noted that there were doubts of proof of premeditation in the Sept. 17 slaying, as would be required to obtain conviction on the first degree murder charge.

After serving 10 years of his prison term, Schinagle will be eligible for parole consideration.

1,250 Miles of Coral Off Australia

Great Barrier Reef One of World's Stirring Sights

One of a number of articles by Nina Pulliam on the customs of the people of Australia, New Zealand and the Fiji Islands. Mrs. Pulliam, wife of Eugene C Pulliam, publisher of the Indianapolis Star and other newspapers, is gathering material for a book on the world "down under."

BRISBANE, Queensland, Australia, (NANA) — If ever you have the great good fortune to get to Australia, don't go away until you've seen the Great Barrier Reef. It is, indeed, one of the most wonderful wonders of the world. Abandon at once any frolicsome notion of just popping out and having a look. This is an undertaking, and the navigating should be in the hands of a thoroughly experienced seaman of the reef. Even he will have to rely on daylight and trial-and-error to negotiate these treacherous changeable waters.

In order to have even the slightest appreciation of the marvel of the reef, one must first know that this magnificence is a result of the ageless activity of the coral animal, one of the most primitive of creatures. The reef pitches downward approximately 6,000 feet to the floor of the sea, but only the upper hundred feet or so are living coral, the phenomena of glorious color and exquisite formation which you are going to see. The tiny coral creatures live out their lives secreting a hard, lime-like substance beneath them and the great submarine mountains on which they live are practically "dead stone"—the result of uncounted ages of working and living and dying, of destroying and being destroyed.

THE GREAT REEF is the largest in the world. It lies off the north-eastern coast of Australia at distances ranging from a few miles to over 150. For approximately 1,250 miles—roughly from the Tropic of Capricorn on north to the Equator—it confronts the restless waters of the Pacific, with only now and then a navigable opening from the inner lagoon out to the ocean proper. Between the reef and the continent lie hundreds of coral atolls and varying islands.

As your boat approaches, the reef is seen in the far distance as a long white line—the swell of the Pacific running against the outer wall which is practically perpendicular.

It is impertinent to think it possible to describe the reef with words, but the urge to share this experience makes one try. Nature is too eloquent for us here, however. She has created forms and colors in such artful and beautiful arrangements they elude us. And she has cast over it all an atmosphere of commingled loveliness and terror.

I SAW FAIRY CASTLES with minarets and crenellated towers and tiny turrets—lavender and pink and ivory and pale blue ones, carved with a perfection of artistry which man has not attained even in the most exquisite of ages-old ivories and jades. My castles stood on great gray-white cliffs—the graveyards of past generations of coral—and around about them stretched cobalt blue moats reaching down many fathoms into the unknown deeps of the sea. In their courtyards were trees, some with bare branches and some in delicate blossom—these are the lovely stagshorn corals, in shades of powder blue and apricot and emerald green and gold. Enormous toadstools, the fungia, were umbrellas on the lawns and here and there were big purple, warty boulders, a species of coral unnamed for me. The dark green mossy banks around the staircases of my castles were the twisted, tortuous brain corals, slightly repellent on close viewing. Other corals were water lilies on my moats and snowflakes in the branches of the trees.

In and out all these unbelievable intricacies, brilliantly colored fish flash constantly. Their colors are dazzling—cardinal red and peacock blue and purple, golden-green and sooty-black and turquoise. There are tiny red and white and black and white striped ones, and a whole school of buttercup-yellow beauties with eyes and fins prominently marked in green and black. Some were cross-barred in deep rose and others were blue with fantastic white and silver designs all over. Whole endless parades of flashy parrot fish darted every which way, or sank suddenly as one solid mass of color in among the branches of the stagshorns.

ALL THIS MAY so entrance you that you've an almost irresistable urge to get down closer to it all, but don't do it! The coral is, in fact, jagged and cruel and it's just your good fortune you've not already seen one of the viciously cruel killer-sharks making his silent, searching rounds. Life and death—creation and destruction—the unending struggle for survival goes on, even in the midst of beauty as beguiling as this.

A cloud seemed to be passing over and I looked up, surprised to see a curtain of gulls wheeling overhead. The tide had gone out. Now another and completely different array of marine life paraded across the exposed tops of the coral reefs. The gulls had come hunting. The very air seemed charged with foreboding. Suddenly I had a feeling of fear. I wanted nothing quite so much as to get away and go into my own room and close the door.

Later, as we drew near the shore of our jungle island, I wanted to hold out my hands just to the light streaming from the little night-hidden cottages. Someone's portable radio was whispering on the night wind the words and music "Just Remember, Till You're Home Again, You belong To Me." It was definitely my "hit tune of the week"!

Ice Skating Becomes Popular New Sport in Marion

Coliseum Rink Makes It Possible To Pursue Hobby All Year

Ice skating is proving to be a popular sport in Marion

Once confined to a few brief weeks in the winter season, skating may now be enjoyed nearly the year 'round with the new ice freezing equipment in the Marion Veterans Coliseum

During the first week the Coliseum was open for public skating, some 1 203 persons paid their way into the hall

With an average of 172 persons each day, the Coliseum has been put to real use since the ice making machinery was installed

SEVERAL TIMES the first week, officials at the building were forced to turn away prospective skaters because of a shortage of rental skates

No more, they say With a shipment of about 100 pairs of skates, the rental department is now equipped to handle up to 300 persons who do not own skates Another shipment has been ordered and is expected during the next month

MOE ROBERTS is in charge of the skate rental He is an expert in the skate business For several years he was in charge of handling the skates for the National Hockey League team, the Chicago Black Hawks He said he had an offer to return there this year, but wished to remain in Ohio

Besides renting skates, the Col[illegible]pped to sell and service skates

MRS TONY HEMMERLING, wife of general manager of the Marion Barons, acts as head ticket seller

Skating sessions are held every night a hockey game is not played In addition there are morning and afternoon sessions on Saturday and a night skate on Sunday

During the week skating begins at 7 30 p m Mrs Hemmerling explained the time had been moved up from 8 p m to allow younger children the opportunity to skate and still get home at a reasonable hour The evening skating lasts until 10 p m

Saturday sessions are held from 10 30 a m to 12 30 p m and from 2 30 to 4 30 p m as well as in the evening

ICE SKATING has come to Marion in full force Here are some scenes taken at one of the sessions at the Memorial Coliseum where skating is held every night no hockey game is played

UPPER LEFT Miss Anne Gillis, skating instructor at the Coliseum, displays the style which won several prizes for her in Canadian competition

UPPER RIGHT Earl Harden, avid skating enthusiast in Marion, was one of the first to make use of the ice rink here

LOWER Some of the skaters at a night session whirl around the ice More than 1 000 skaters made use of the rink during the first week of public skating

A FRESH COAT of ice is applied before every session and during the intermissions This is done to keep the ice smooth

Re-icing is done by special carts which distribute a film of hot water over the ice The hot water fills the grooves made by the skates and freezes into a smooth surface

Tony Hemmerling general manager of the Barons said he was surprised at the ability of some of the persons on the ice He said many seemed to have a natural ability which is brought out just by practice

HEMMERLING also expressed the sentiment that the ice skating in Marion was going to turn into one of the most successful recreation ideas in the area

He also said that when all the skates ordered arrive the Coliseum would be capable of handling at least 400 persons each night Right now, at least 300 persons can be accomodated

Skating lessons will be given by Miss Anne Gillis, Canadian professional

Music is applied for the skaters by records Slow, fast, and medium speed music is played for the skaters and most of the music is suitable for skating by couples

Favorite Complaint

Wilbur Peeble Longs for Quiet Sunday

By HAL BOYLE

HOMETOWN, U.S.A. (AP)—Wilbur Peeble, America's most average husband, had a favorite speech of complaint, which ran as follows:

"The trouble with civilization is a man can't ever have a quiet Sunday. People always beating on your door, or calling you up wanting to go somewhere.

"No wonder everybody's a nervous wreck. After working hard all week, why can't a man just stay home and rest and relax on Sundays, like they did in the old days?"

After 15 years of listening to this little speech, his wife, Trellis Mae, got pretty tired of it. She decided to give Wilbur the kind of old-fashioned Sabbath he yearned for.

So on this particular Sunday she let him sleep late, then brought him breakfast in bed.

"Honey, I just want you to take it easy today," she said. "Don't even bother to dress or shave. And you don't have to take me to church I'll go myself."

Wilbur looked up, surprised and grateful. He was happy to skip church this morning because he knew the dynamic new pastor was going to call for funds to build a roller skating rink to attract more teenagers to his sermons.

Later, yawning luxuriously, Wilbur put on his robe, went into the living room and picked up the Sunday newspaper. He glanced at the front page headlines, shuddered and turned to the sports section and turned to the comics.

He was glad when Trellis Mae returned. He was beginning to be a bit bored.

"Guess I'll call up Horace McWhinney, and see what's doing," he said. "Bet he'll try to talk me into a golf game."

"Dear, I had the phone turned off over the weekend so it wouldn't annoy you," said Trellis Mae.

"That's nice," said Wilbur dubiously "Wondered why it didn't ring."

Later, when he tried to tune in the radio-television set, Trellis Mae said it had broken down and could not be fixed until the next day.

"You won't have to bother about that nuisance ruining your Sunday," she said gaily. "Why don't you curl up with a good book They say only 3 out of 10 adult Americans read books anymore."

Wilbur pulled down a book called "One Corps to Go," read the last two pages and put it back, satisfied.

After a big mid-day meal, Wilbur tried to take a nap but couldn't sleep.

"An atom bomb could go off and we wouldn't know it," he mumbled moodily.

"Oh, we'd hear the warning sirens," said Trellis Mae.

Just then a siren screamed and Wilbur leaped two feet into the air.

"It's just the fire chief taking his family out for a ride," said Trellis Mae, glancing out the window.

Several times Wilbur, getting more restless by the minute, seemed to hear footsteps at the apartment door, but nobody rang the bell.

Finally he went to the door, opened it, and saw a sign in his wife's handwriting hanging from the knob: "Gone for the weekend."

After two hours of nervous pacing back and forth Wilbur suddenly shaved, dressed, and told Trellis Mae:

"Let's go for a walk—just a short one."

He artfully steered their course past the McWhinney apartment, then said, "Let's run in see Horace and Hortense—just for a moment. But you know how they are? Let's don't get stuck there all night."

"Come in," gratefully said Horace, who was in pajamas. "We were just spending a quiet Sunday at home."

After half an hour, Trellis Mae began saying, "We really must be going," and Wilbur kept replying, "Yes, yes, we really ought to." But he made no attempt to get up.

Well, then Hortense fixed a snack of fish canapes that always made Wilbur sick. Then they got out the cards. Then it was time to listen to the 11 p.m. news. Then someone said, "Oh, let's look at the late TV movie, 'Love beats Lockjaw.'"

Then Wilbur and Horace got into an hour long argument over the Eisenhower administration, and the clock struck 2 a.m. when the Peebles finally returned home.

Wilbur stopped off in the kitchen for some sodium bicarb to soothe his upset stomach, and then, as he sagged into bed, began to moan:

"The trouble with this civilization is a man can never spend a quiet—"

"Shut up!" said Trellis Mae "Wilbur, you'll never spend a quiet Sunday unless I sell you to the zoo. They got a rule there the animals have to go to bed when it gets dark."

Two Area Servicemen To Dock in U.S. Today

Shelby Depot Employes Granted Wage Boost

Officials of Wilkins Air Force Depot, Shelby, announced today that approximately 1,700 regular wage board depot employes will receive an average pay increase of seven cents per hour.

The increase is the result of a wage survey of industry in this area conducted by the local Air Force installation's wage and classification analysts in September, this year. Results of the survey were approved by the Army-Air Force Wage Board, Washington, D.C., and the average increase was authorized. The revised schedule will become effective the first pay period after Nov. 6.

Classification Act employes are not affected by the pay increase.

Wilkins Depot maintains a storage base at the old Scioto Ordnance area.

Sen. Knowland Opposes U.N. Seat for China

Would Be 'Go Ahead' Signal for Aggression In Balance of Asia

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen Knowland (R-Calif) said today he thought seating of Red China in the United Nations "would be generally recognized as the 'go ahead' signal for communism in the balance of Asia."

Knowland Senate Republican leader who returned recently from a six-week trip around the world, said letting Red China into the U N "would be taken as a scuttle and run policy on the part of the free world."

In a copyrighted interview with U S News & World Report an independent weekly news magazine published in Washington Knowland said of such action

"I think it would definitely break the morale of the people in the balance of Asia who are prepared to resist communism, so that they would feel that there was nothing much left for them to do but to go hat in hand to the Kremlin or to Peiping and make the best deal that they could

Knowland said he found some concern in the Far East as to "whether we will continue to resist the admission of Communist China into the U N"

"I think" he said, "that those nations realize the consequences that would flow from any such act because most of the anti-Communists out in the Far East recognize I believe that the mere admission of Communist China into the United Nations would not satisfy the Communists either at Peiping or in the Kremlin at Moscow

"They would immediately then press for Chinese Communist membership on the Security Council That would require the removal of the Republic of China from membership on the Security Council and membership in the United Nations and even that would not satisfy them because they would then claim that as the legally recognized member of the United Nations they should have possession of Formosa"

Technical Dishonesty

Sen. Williams of Delaware has earned the gratitude of honest taxpayers by calling attention to a technical loophole being used by dishonest government employes who want to evade taxes.

Because a federal law says the salary of a government employe cannot be attached and a federal rule says an employe can't be fired for being a dead-beat, dishonest government employes have been refusing to pay balances due on their income taxes.

This one more demonstration of an undercover rule which Sen. Williams became interested in nearly two years ago when he lifted the lid on scandals in the Bureau of Internal Revenue — that taxes in the United States are paid in full without funny business only by Americans trying to be honest and that all others are on the lookout for technicalities which will let them be dishonest without actually committing a crime.

A few days ago, President Eisenhower made a rule that government employes who stood on the technicality of the Fifth Amendment could be fired. His countrymen would back him up in a general rule that any government employe who showed inclinations toward technical dishonesty should be barred from the public payroll.

All Taxes Are Bad

One of the best bets in public affairs is that Congress eventually will enact a manufacturers' excise tax to take the place of taxes scheduled to expire in 1954.

Unless some form of revenue is substituted for the expiring levies, the United States will have to give up hope of balancing its budget and hope of providing an adequate defense.

But along with the certainty of a manufacturers' excise tax are some other certainties.

It is certain that the political opposition will shriek that the tax is bad. All taxes are bad, but politicians shriek about them one at a time.

It is certain the structure of the tax will be twisted out of all semblance of its normal shape by pressure blocs and that the damage will have to be repaired when animosities have cooled off.

And it is certain that when this happens the successful experience of Canada with a manufacturers' excise tax will prove to be conclusive. The Canadians have discovered a vital thing about this tax since 1920 — that it is absorbed by manufacturers when their products are plentiful and passed on to consumers only during wars and inflations when manufactured goods are scarce and money is plentiful.

People Without Decency

The word "vandal" is in such constant use lately that it may be helpful to review its origin.

Vandals were Teutonic tribesmen who pillaged and destroyed Europe and made a foray into Africa early in the Christian era. Their name then, as now, referred to their characteristic behavior in the presence of value created by others.

They lacked any standard of civilized behavior. They destroyed what they could not cherish because they had no sense of value. They were destroyers.

The modern vandal is never any further away than the next reckless instance of property destruction by a throwback to the Vandals who terrorized Europe in the early part of the Christian era. He is a German soldier running amuck in wartime, an American college student destroying property in high spirits, a high school boy or girl ruining something of value with no thought of the consequences.

The road to civilization is long and uphill all the way. The vandals are those who have tired of keeping up with the procession, or who never have tried.

Uncle Fud

A recommendation by an administrative board of three Air Force colonels that a Detroit reservist be discharged as a doubtful security risk because his father and sister look like bad risks is blowing up a storm in the Selfridge Field area.

The loyalty of the reservist, Lieut Milo J Radulovich, is not in question His dismissal, in the words of the lawyer who helped him represent his position before the administrative board, is based on "guilt by relationship"

His father, born in Serbia, has shown an affinity for left - wing politics, though witnesses who know him have denied this ever carried him to the extreme of Communist affiliation His sister is admittedly a supporter of Communist activities, but both Lieut. Radulovich and his wife explained in the hearing that they have had no continuing contacts with this member of the family.

The Radulovich case probably will be carried to the secretary of the Air Force. A fundamental issue is involved. Can the least of us be discharged from whatever position we may occupy sometime in the service of the government because our Uncle Fud was a horse thief, or what now is far worse, a political radical who may have joined up at one time or another with the Communist conspiracy?

By the way, has anyone checked up to see what Uncle Fud has been doing lately?

Deep-Rooted Dispute

By James Marlow

U.N. Facing Burning Issue in Palestine

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Arabs and the Jews of Israel battled each other bloodily. Tomorrow the United Nations Security Council examines their latest disputes.

Since the disputes have deep roots, here is the background.

When the Ottoman (Turkish) Empire in the Near East was broken up after World War I, the League of Nations mandated Syria to France and Palestine and Transjordan to Britain.

The mandate meant that, after a period of preparation, the people in those three territories could have their own governments France let Syria have full independence after World War I. At once Britain did the same for Transjordan.

It was different with Palestine, which was occupied by Jews and Arabs. Yet, as long ago as 1917, the British had promised to make Palestine a homeland for Jews, provided there were safeguards for the Arabs living there. The proposal infuriated the Arabs.

Britain wanted the friendship of the Arabs, who far outnumbered the Jews in the strategic Near East. Failing to get agreement from them and the Jews on Palestine, Britain tossed the problem decades later to the U N

In 1947 the U N. proposed dividing Palestine into two states, one Jewish, one Arab. The Jews and Arabs in Palestine began to fight. Britain threw up its hands, said it would clear out by May 15, 1948

The Jews declared Palestine an independent state, Israel. Israel's neighbors—Lebanon, Syria, Iraq, Egypt, Jordan (formerly Transjordan) — attacked. The outnumbered Israelis were more than a match for the attackers.

In 1949 the U N got the war stopped by an armistice agreed to by both sides, pending a final peace treaty. It's still pending There has been no real peace: there have been raids across the borders, shootings, killings — by both Israelis and Arabs.

Israel has a frontier with four of the states it fought: Lebanon, Syria, Jordan and Egypt.

The dispute now before the U.N. concerns Israel, Syria and Jordan. Take the Syrian problem first:

Israel's frontier with Syria is a demilitarized zone — in which Jews and Arabs live—set up by the U.N as part of the armistice. Though this zone runs the Jordan River, from north to south.

The Israelis, wanting to use the Jordan for hydroelectric power and irrigation, began to work on the river to divert it out of the demilitarized zone westward into Israeli territory They said they would bring it back into the zone about 10 miles below where the diversion began.

The Syrians complained that this violated the armistice agreement. They said the Israel government had no right to take such action in the demilitarized zone without Syrian consent. They said the river diversion would deprive Arab lands of irrigation.

Over this bitterness there have been shootings in the zone. The head of the U.N. truce commission, Danish Maj. Gen. Vagn Bennike, ordered Israel to stop work on the river. Israel refused. Syria brought its complaint to the U.N.

In the meantime, Israel was having critical trouble with its eastern neighbor. From Jordan, an armed band crossed into Israel and killed a mother and two children An armed force from Israel retaliated by crossing into Jordan, attacking three Arab villages and killing 63 people. The Jordani repaid this by mining and derailing an Israeli train although no one was killed in the wreck.

The United States denounced the attack on the Arab villages. Secretary of State Dulles said this government would withhold economic aid to the Israeli government because it defied the U.N. with its work on the Jordan River

The United Stats, Britain and France asked the 11-nation U.N. Security Council, of which the three are members, to consider the attack on the Jordan village. Bennike was called to New York to report. The council will hear Bennike and the Syrian complaint tomorrow, the Jordan complaint later in the week

Israel contends the Arabs have been attacking Israelis in violation of the armistice and refuse to agree on a peace treaty.

Even Unto Spaniels

By TRUMAN TWILL

On my latest day off the spaniel and I had another of our annual merry-go-rounds with a pair of scissors. These encounters take place in the fall after innumerable summer dunkings in the creek and burr-catchings in the underbrush have converted the spaniel's lop ears into a pair of badly stuffed mattresses.

She fights every inch of the way as her coal-black tresses are snipped off and fall to the ground. She snarls and kicks and bites She moans, shrieks and whimpers. When it is all over she no longer looks like a spaniel but one of Eliza's also-rans.

What has happened to her is not to be likened to what happens to high-bred beasts pretued up in canine beauty parlors. With her, the idea is to get back to fundamentals and start from there

It has been a sanitary measure, not a beauty treatment. The fact of the matter is, she does not even look like a spaniel when it's over, because her lop ears have been trimmed back to the bare essentials. Her crowning glory is in a heap on the ground and there is nothing to divert attention from her middle-aged spread She must be loved for her personality alone

All of this came to mind today when one of the dollies in the office showed up with what she explained was one of many variations of an "Italian cut."

She explained, when pressed for details about the events leading up to this accident, that the Italian cuts originated in New York City and now are sweeping the country

She pointed out, as women are prone to do whenever a new hair-do comes along, that the purpose of the Italian cuts, of which there are many, is to make women more attractive to men.

She admitted, however, when urged to make a full confession, that the Italian cuts also have the advantage of being easy to care for, since all a dolly needs to do is run a comb through her tresses in the a m and she is ready for her Wheaties This particular dolly, being already married, undoubtedly was being sincere about the easy upkeep and low overhead

The same advantage is sought by men who go in for the lowly "butch."

Yet, as we gazed upon the place where her crowning glory had been the last time we saw her, we kept thinking of what happened to the spaniel.

We wondered if there had been much snarling, kicking, biting, moaning, shrieking and shimpering in connection with the dolly's shearing. We wondered if there had been burrs and stick-tights and those pesky little balls of wool which form around the leading edges of spaniels' ears.

It was revealed subsequently that some of the other dollies in the office are going to have Italian cuts soon—to make themselves more attractive to men and to cut down the upkeep and the overhead

Little did our spaniel know this year that she had nothing to bite about; that she was going to be comme il faut, which, freely translated, means she was going to look as though she had just been gone over by the entire freshman class of Barber College, raw, raw, raw: that she is going to be irresistible from now till eternity

The Point of No Return

By Edward K. Nellor

Are vast number of government workers dodging income tax payments?

Sen. Williams insists that they are and that he intends to ask Congress to put a stop to it.

The Internal Revenue Service, through a spokesman, is trying to flag down the aggressive Delaware senator, whose one-man exposes of tax frauds shattered the aplomb of the tax collectors who worked under the Truman administration.

Williams estimates that the 25,000 federal employes, some in the Treasury Department and Internal Revenue Service, are getting a free ride at the expense of the ignoring demands for payment.

The senator says they get by with it because government paychecks can't be attached, nor can their retirement funds, in the event they quit or are fired.

The Internal Revenue Service says the senator's figures are about right, but that they are no worse than among any other group of Americans who sometimes balk when tax collections are due

"If the senator has been talking about the City of Pittsburgh instead of Washington, the 25,000 would probably be steelworkers instead of federal employes," a revenue service official stated.

What's more, the 25,000 are not the same 25,000 from year to year by any means, according to the tax collecting agency. About 5,000 pay up on the average each month, another five thousand act coy about it and have to be needled, the service estimates.

It's true that a federal employe's paycheck can't be attached for delinquent taxes but very few non-federal paychecks are attached either, according to Internal Revenue Service records.

Attaching paychecks is a port of last call for the tax collector, and "only the really hard nuts," are cracked this way, according to officials.

Federal paychecks are shorn of some cash, just as your's and mine, by the withholding system. The bailkers, however, enter the picture when the Revenue Service finds a mistake in the return, or a deliberate underpayment, and bills the taxpayer for the balance

If a federal worker is without property of any kind, depends solely on his federal paycheck for his income and refuses to heed letters or warning and demands for more cash from the collector, there is nothing Uncle Sam can do about it

Such individuals are in the minority, in Washington and elsewhere in the nation. Almost everyone has some property—a car, a house, furniture etc., and if any of it is ever converted into cash the tax collector can move in for his tithe.

The Internal Revenue Service has no objection to Sen. William's proposed legislation—at least not at first glance—and it is not alarmed over the situation he proposes to correct.

The Service spokesman used the word "vicious" in describing some taxpayers who short - change Uncle Sam but he said they are no more numerous in Washington among federal workers than anywhere else.

There are some "vicious" ones among Sen William's 25,000 and they are a constant tax collecting problem. They also arouse the most anger among taxpaying citizens, who not only have to pay their salaries, but kick in a little extra to help pay the taxes the federal employe refuses to cough up.

The Midnight Snack

By Frank Tripp

No, I can't cook To claim that I can would undo a lifetime of precaution. Religious adherence to culinary dumbness has saved many a guy from years of kitchen duty, and I'm one of 'em But I'm nuts about good cooks

It doesn't take long to fathom why a super cook, out to eat, always orders a dish for which she's famed. It isn't because she craves it. She wants to tear it apart.

It's always shy of this or that, and Mrs. Good Cook leaves full of satisfaction with herself, and possessed of a conversation topic good for a week The greatest mistake you can make is to praise a restaurant dish before you learn if your companion specializes in it. If she does, you're in Dutch

Besides, you have to learn on your way around, that a Denver omelet is the insides of a western egg sandwich priced three times more than down at Bob's Diner, and that a Salisbury steak is what Bob calls a "double hamburg, with"

BUT THIS special night you're out to do the town and blow your wad; a premeditated sucker with friend our check yanks you back to earth and you look around to see if the scenery is worth it.

It isn't. In place of the good-natured gal down at Bob's, who'll take your kidding and hand it back, your waiter is a sourpuss phony European who feigns poor English—until he sees the size of your 10 per cent tip

Then he knows all of the words and you're sure he was born and brought up around the fish market under Brooklyn Bridge.

Suddenly his "monsieur" or "senor" changes to "piker and cheap skate" and you're lucky if he doesn't spill a plate of watermelon in your lap.

—:—

FOR A BUCK more he would have seen you to the door and recommended you to the head waiter, who for another buck would have been lavishly solicitous for your safe departure and urged you to "honor us again."

Instead you leave in a shroud of gloom and walk to the corner for a taxi, to escape further insult from the seven - foot doorman, who works days refilling high slots at the Automat.

Inside the taxi, you confide to your companion, who I hope is your wife, "I'll never need to see that joint again"

BACK HOME, shy a half week's pay, for four days of anticipation and four minutes of pleasure, you raid the refrigerator. And find more cozy food satisfaction on one shelf of left-overs than on the eight pages of pigeon French at the misnamed "Avec Plaisir," where you blew your dough.

Which brings us to the point: What is cozy food satisfaction How about that bowl of chicken salad, that never saw a calf, or a ripe Limberger sandwich with sweet Italian onion sliced on, or a baked bean sandwich, they're swell cold, there's some cold roast pork too, and always scrambled eggs and bacon.

No want! Then maybe you'll settle for that half of a home-made pumpkin pie, browned on top with sprinkled cinnamon; or perhaps this time it's mince with rum sauce.

TOO HEAVY to sleep on? Okay, let's look in the fruit compartment. Pretty good picking There's a native vine-ripened musk melon (casaba, where you just came from, ripened in a ship's hull) There's a basket of blushing peaches, luscious pears, prune plumbs and some early grapes

But look, there's a real vegetable treat big smooth, round beefsteak tomatoes, as red as Farmer Brown's barn. Let's have one the only way to really enjoy fresh country grown tomatoes; eaten whole like an apple, salted to taste as it goes down. Never tried it? Better had.

IT NEARS TIME to go to bed You top off with Liederkranz on saltines, a bottle of brew, cooled just right, or a glass of milk if you choose. You look at each other like a couple of saps—and marvel at your stupidity.

Yet we all will do it over again: the very next time that we fall under the spell of the bright lights, a blazing marquee and a dance band

Then go home and really eat All hail the midnight snack.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

A Peace Move at Last

The United States is distributing Sears Roebuck and Montgomery Ward catalogues to 63 nations to help promote better understandings and world peace. This is not as silly as it may seem. We can think of few things that will tone down a man's belligerence more than a mail-order catalogue

It opens a new world, admitting a fellow to a veritable wonderland. Trieste sinks in a sea of suspenders, wading boots, bicycles, ships, shoes and sealing wax.

"What's new with Moscow?" gives way to, "What's new with auto parts, picnic supplies, garden tools, batteries, flashlights, baby carriages, kitchen supplies and mackintoshes?" Ultimatums, parleys, hassels and agendas seem eclipsed by vacuum cleaner, coffee percolators, inner tubes, horse blankets, lawn furniture and tree sprays

What chance has Panmunjom against the latest pictures and prices in the realm of pots, pans, bass plugs and fifty feet of wooden fence? How important does Dulles seem stacked up against the smartest canoe or lawnmower a mail-order house can produce?

The mail-order catalogue could picture Uncle Sam as he really is a busy, enterprising resourceful, inventive fellow supplying man with what he wants and quoting prices singly or the gross

It shows America as a land of bargains not conspiracies, with emphasis on human needs, not human hatreds.

Many a Russian might shake off his hatred of the free world if he could be put under the spell of a mail-order catalogue giving all the dope on outboard motors, mousetraps, duck decoys, weathervanes, leather jackets, tire pumps and electric dishwashers.

What Arab, Egyptian or Pole could concentrate on disliking America if he could forget all the speeches and wade through all the facts and figures on false teeth, baseball masks, portable houses, iron stoves, mandolins, bird baths, baby chicks and snow plows?

Brother, there is something about such a catalogue that stirs the philosophic mood, brings peace of mind and encourages the spirit of live and let live.

Show me a man deep in a mail-order catalogue and we'll show you a guy who hasn't a yen to lick anybody or even start a disturbance.

Who knows? Malenkov may, in a warlike mood, take a catalogue to his study and upon emerging change his mind about sending another note to America and decide to order a No 5674 Halcyon Model Trout Rod

Vishinsky may drop an attack and come through for brotherly love and No. 3309-A The Bird-Calling Instrument Any Child Can Operate. (Chou En lai, how are you fixed for a Red Rover bicycle with electric light and musical horn?)

Famous last words: "Could we interest you in a TV address, Sen. Wicks?"

The N Y Giants are playing in Japan. That's about as far below Brooklyn as they could finish isn't it" Incidentally, how can we send Leo Durocher to Tokyo and still claim we don't want trouble in Asia"

New York is planning its annual horse show and we hear a feature will be power steering and a saddle that can be raised or lowered by buttons.

After what he has been put through so far out of uniform, President Eisenhower must have reached the positive conclusion that every ordeal he ever went through in the Army was child's play.

When we were awaiting that TV explanation by Sen Wicks of New York and got a travelogue on the city of Boston instead, we thought at first that the senator was going to drag Paul Revere into the act and compare his visit to Joe Fay in Sing Sing to the patriots' fight at Bunker Hill

Who Out-Ranks Who Perennial Headache

White House Social Protocol Loaded With Pitfalls

BY GERALD KLOSS

WASHINGTON (NANA)—After a lapse of seven years during the Truman administration, the White House once again is being readied for the pomp and circumstance of an official social season. A program of 11 state dinners and receptions has been announced, beginning with a Cabinet dinner Nov. 3 and ending with a congressional reception Feb. 24.

Mrs Eisenhower, after announcing the schedule, was queried on whether she felt the social season might have some headaches

"What headaches" she asked.

"Protocal headaches," was the answer

"I don't think that's difficult," she replied. And there, perhaps she could be wrong. Social protocol—decisions on such matters a whether the sister of a vice president outranks the wife of the speaker of the House—has produced some notable sidelights in White House history, from the times of Dolly Madison to Dolly Gann.

As a matter of fact, one such teapot tempest, more than a century ago wrecked a presidential cabinet, disrupted a political party and even helped decide who would be the next President of the United States It came about in the first administration of Andrew Jackson, and the cause of it all was the calculated snubbing of the wife of the President's Secretary of War.

THE SECRETARY, John Eaton Jackson's long time crony from Tennessee. He had married a tavern keeper's daughter, a fetching young woman named Peggy O'Neale

There were murmurs of horror in the social set when Jackson made Eaton a member of the Cabinet Peggy Eaton was snubbed completely by the Cabinet wives at Jackson's inauguration ball and all subsequent public functions Even Jackson's niece and hostess refused to talk to her when she visited the White House

The President's temper flared at what he felt was a re-enactment of the slander mongering that had brought his wife, Rachel, to her death bed a short time before He even read a statemen to three recalcitrant Cabinet members, informing them that if they continued to snub the lady, they had better withdraw from the Cabinet

Despite his arduous campaign, Jackson never did win this battle of the teacups. Peggy Eaton was snubbed right up to the end of her husband's career in Washington

THE WHITE HOUSE social season started out on a rather modest scale, in keeping with the newness of the nation and its distaste for undemocratic continental customs When Thomas Jefferson became President, he allowed for only two official receptions a year, —New Year's Day and the Fourth of July—on a come one-come all basis, The easy going etiquette of Jefferson's administration did not last, however.

When Van Buren took over as President, the change was startling. He picked his beautiful daughter-in-law, Angelica, for his White House hostess and she had her own ideas of propriety. At reception, she sat on a dais, wearing a purple velvet gown with a long train and three feathers in her hair. Van Buren's opponents gleefully pointed out that the three feathers business was taken directly from the British court

T. R's daughter, Alice Roosevelt Longworth, was one of the parties in the biggest protocol battle since World War I—the memorable Dolly Gann disturbance in the Herbert Hoover administration.

Mrs. Gann was chosen by her brother, Vice President Charles Curtis, for his official hostess. Curtis called upon Secretary of State Henry Stimson to settle the matter of her rank Should she or shouldn't she be given the same precedence as the wife of a Vice President

WHILE STIMSON reluctantly studied the issue, the press and some senators had a field day of commentary. Senator Norris of Nebraska sarcastically suggested that the question be turned over to the World Court, ahead of such insignificant matters as the war in Nicaragua and the maintaining of a big navy.

One newspaper had another solution, to line up guests at an official function outside the dining room and let them race for the seats of their choice at the sound of a gong. "A few physical casualties in the scramble would be of small moment in comparison with the mental anguish now prevailing, "the editorial stated. "It would be triumph of fitness wholly in accord with the American spirit"

Stimson at last made his decision, decreeing that Mrs. Gann should have precedence over wives of diplomats.

That apparently, is all that is needed to bring on a battle in the tinseled world of social protocol The White House has come a long way from the time when Thomas Jefferson could insist that "when brought together in society, all are perfectly equal."

The ancient Egyptians painted eyes on their ships and even today, small boats in the Orient have painted eyes to help them "see," says the National Geographic Society

LaRosa Starts Career in TV As Independent

Singer Still Dubious Over Godfrey Split Being Good 'Break'

NEW YORK (AP) — Singer Julius La Rosa, after his first television appearance since being fired by Arthur Godfrey, says he still does not know whether the events of the past week have been a break.

"Time will tell," added the 24-year-old Brooklynite who for two years had been a "Little Godfrey" and last night started a career as a television star in his own right.

He made the change with his parents watching from the audience and a host of teen-age fans shouting encouragement on the sidewalks outside the studio.

La Rosa appeared on the Ed Sullivan "Toast of the Town" TV program over CBS. Cheers greeted his rendition of the song, "Eh Cumpari," which he made popular in a recording.

It was the singer's first TV performance since Godfrey a week ago today gave him his walking papers during a morning broadcast.

Godfrey followed up this action with a news conference at which he accused La Rosa of having lost his humility. Then during a television interview Friday Godfrey said he just wanted to do the young man a favor and allow him to go on to bigger things; if time had not run out on last Monday's program, Godfrey said he would have given La Rosa a biger send-off.

A television official who declined to be identified, said last night that the right explanation of the incident was the one originally given by Godfrey. The subject of humility, the official indicated, was brought to the fore by La Rosa's getting himself an outside manager in violation of an agreemen twith Godfrey.

La Rosa made no direct reference to Godfrey during last night's program. However, the crooner later said he guessed Godfrey's television statement Friday was "his message to me—which I appreciate."

It is estimated that damage by rats in the United States reaches as much as 200 million dollars a year

CRIPPLE KILLS A BEAR. Bryan Arritt, 50, "wheelchair hunter" of Yuba City, Calif., poses with the 226-pound black bear he killed in deer country near his hometown after a hand-to-hand encounter. When four shots failed to halt the onrushing bear, Arritt unable to move from the blanket where fellow hunters had placed him, hit the bear with his gun and with the rock shown under the bear's head. He managed to hold it off long enough to reload, then shot it in the head. Arritt was shaken but unhurt. The picture was taken at the scene by Henry Penaluna, a member of the hunting party.

Ike Invites 9 Ohio Mayors To Conference

Washington Session Set Dec. 14-15 on Civil Defense Plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mayors of the eight cities in Ohio designated "critical target areas" for enemy bombers are expected to attend the President's civil defense conference Dec. 14-15.

One on the invitation list—Thomas A. Burke of Cleveland — will have given up his mayor's job by then, however, and taken over as Ohio's junior senator.

Here is the President's invitation list for Ohio's "critical" cities: Akron — Mayor Russell M. Bird; Canton—Mayor Carl F. Wise; Cincinnati—Mayor Carl Rich, City Manager Wilbur Kellogg; Cleveland—Mayor Burke; Columbus—Mayor Robert T. Oestreicher, Dayton—Mayor Louis W. Lohrey, City Manager Oscar F. Mauch Toledo—Mayor Lloyd E Roulet, City Manager Arnold V. Finch, Youngstown — Mayor Charles P. Henderson.

In addition, the President has asked Mayor John H. Horstman and City Manager R. M Hoisington of Springfield to attend.

Springfield is regarded as a "target area" but not critical.

Other Ohio sections considered "target areas" but of less than 75,000 are Hamilton - Middletown, Lima, Lorain - Elyria, Lawrence County (part of the Huntington-Ashland, area); Belmont and Jefferson counties (part of the Wheeling, W. Va. area).

Party Planned Oct. 31 By Tymochtee Grange

MEEKER—At a recent meeting of the Tymochtee Grange an invitation was extended to the group to attend the Painter Creek Halloween party Oct 30.

With Floyd Barnett presiding, the Grange made plans for a Halloween party Oct. 31 at the Grange Hall. A donation to the United Appeals was voted. The next meeting of the Grange was postponed until Nov. 5, because of the County Grange banquet the night before.

Commandments Rewritten, Says Methodist Minister

BARRE, Vt. (AP) — The Rev Emory S. Bucke, a Methodist minister, says the Ten Commandments appeared to have been rewritten during the past week to read:

"Thou shalt worship thy lord God-frey, and him only shalt thou serve."

Speaking yesterday at a united Protestant service, Dr. Bucke, of the Methodist Publishing House, Boston, said also:

"The plain fact is that no one in history has been able to bluff humility. Genuine humility does not play the part of a 'stupid stooge,' but is a quality of soul which is there by virtue of deep spiritual achievement."

Dr. Burke was referring to the discharge of singer Julius La Rosa by Arthur Godfrey for having "lost his humility."

What people see is registered on their eyes upside down and the mind turns the image over to put it in proper perspective.

The recent severe windstorms at Waco, Wichita and Worcester provide a costly lesson. Insurance companies found that a large percentage of residents in these cities had no insurance, or very little. This would have been true if FIRE had done the damage instead of wind, since most residents depended on the added features of a fire policy for their windstorm coverage.

Earl J. Andrews

Here is the record. In Waco, the damage done was $35,000,000. But insurance claims only totaled $5,000,000. The coverage averaged just 20%!

In Worcester, damage again hit $25,000,000. Insurance coverage about $15,000,000. And 3000 owners who suffered damage had absolutely no insurance!

Many dwellings were insured only to the value of the mortgage, and some of these were a total loss. Likewise, many household had no coverage of any kind on contents even though they suffered heavy damage.

In Wichita, the record was somewhat better since the average loss was smaller. However, again, it was discovered that the average home and commercial property was substantially underinsured.

That's not guesswork—it's the actual record. Proof that you should consult us NOW about your own insurance, before disaster strikes!

Three Marion Youths Hurt When Car Runs Off Road South of City

Seven people received injuries in the 11 weekend accidents in Marion County reported this morning by police and the Marion Station of the state highway patrol.

Six persons were injured in the four accidents investigated by the state patrol.

Three were taken to Marion City Hospital with injuries resulting from a one-car accident at 2:15 a.m. Sunday on County Road 107, about eight-tenths of a mile south.

The driver, James Lee Bender, 18, of 517 Park Blvd., received abrasions on the face and a bruised right leg. He was reported in "good" condition at the hospital this morning.

Passengers Also Hurt

Two passengers, Tildon Witts, 19, of 428 Scranton Ave., and Jerry Thacker, 22, of 814 Silver St., were released after being treated for numerous abrasions and bruises.

The car was demolished. It was northbound when Bender apparently lost control. The car ran off the road to the right, recrossed the road, and finally turned over, the patrol reported.

Two people received slight injuries in a two-car collision on Route 95 at the junction with Road 163, about two miles east of Route 98, at 9:30 a.m. Sunday.

The driver of one car, Robert W. Beall, 25, of Mt. Gilead, received bruises on the forehead and knee, while a passenger in his car, Alice Beall, 25, of Mt. Gilead, received bruises on both knees. Neither one was treated at the scene.

Autos Collide

Beall's car, westbound on 95, and a car heading north on 163 and driven by Josephine Retterer, 35, of near Caledonia, collided. Both cars were badly damaged in the front ends.

Josephine Retterer was cited to appear in Municipal Court Saturday on charges of failing to yield the right of way.

Curtis Duty, 46, of 559 Decatur St., was cited to appear in Municipal Court Saturday to answer charges of failure to yield the right of way following an accident at 1:40 p.m. yesterday on Route 23 at the north city limits.

Duty was eastbound on Copeland A when his car and a northbound car driven by Virgil L. Penrod, 38, of Columbus, collided.

A passenger in the Penrod car, Anna Hummel, 45, of Moorehead, Ky., was bruised but not treated.

Both cars received moderate damage to the front ends.

Driver Arrested

A collision at the junction of County Roads 10 and 184, about one mile west of the Marion-Morrow County line, at 1 p.m. yesterday resulted in the citation of Wilton Leatham, 41, of Galion. Leatham was charged with failure to yield the right of way and cited to appear in Municipal Court Saturday.

Leatham was going south on 184 and turning east on 10 when he collided with a westbound car, driven by Ralph Wayne Baer, 39, of near Galion. There were no injuries although both cars were badly damaged.

Police reports show Fritch was eastbound on Mt. Vernon Ave. when his car hit the pole, demolishing the automobile. Fritch was taken to City Hospital for treatment of his injuries. Cause of the accident was not reported by police.

At 1:10 p.m. Saturday, a car driven by Eli E. Bush, 40, of near Cardington was damaged in the rear end when struck by one driven by Robert E. Nelson, 18, of 383 E. George St. Police reports show Bush was stopped in front of 131 W. Center St. The front end of Nelson's car was damaged.

Parked Car Struck

At noon Saturday, Miss Eilene J. Sherman of 469 Silver St. reported to police her car had struck an unidentified parked car at the corner of E. Center and Greenwood St. The right front fender of Miss Sherman's car was damaged.

Another accident at E. Center and Greenwood Sts., was reported at 11:29 a.m. Saturday. The front end of a car driven by Lawrence A. Axe, 63, of 271 W. Church St. was damaged as it struck the rear of a car driven by Francis O. Smith, 35, of 630 Lee St.

Pre-Election Citizens' Meeting Slated

Important Special Issues To Be Discussed by Women Voters

Invitations to a citizens' meeting to be held Thursday evening in the YMCA, in preparation for the Nov. 3 general election, were passed out on downtown streets Saturday.

Handing out the invitations were members of Miss Edith Brown's citizenship class at Harding High School on behalf of the Marion League of Women Voters. Along with the invitation, the students reminded citizens of their responsibilities to cast their ballots on election day.

AT THE SAME time, League members added a vocal invitation over a loud-speaker set up on the Courthouse lawn for Marion citizens to attend the pre-Election information meeting Thursday evening at 8 p.m.

The citizens' meeting this year takes the place of the customary candidates' meeting sponsored annually by the Marion League. A citizens' meeting was deemed to be of more value this year in view of the importance of the several special issues to confront voters on Nov. 3.

Mrs. James E. Frew will act as chairman and moderator for the meeting, which is open to the public. The meeting will follow the final report meeting of the current United Appeals campaign, which is also scheduled at the YMCA.

Miss Pansy Rauhauser and Robert Kelly will present a panel discussion on the home rule charter question which voters will decide during the election.

Other city, county, and state issues appearing on the ballot will be discussed by Mrs. Henry Ruhl, Mrs. Durward Myers, Mrs. B. N. Salzman, Mrs. Walter Sinden, Mrs. William Diem, and Mrs. Frew.

Local candidates present at the meeting will be introduced to the persons attending the meeting.

Chairman of the committee which is making plans for the citizens' meeting is Mrs. Robert Fay. Assisting her are Mrs. William Decker, Mrs. Carl Mounts, Mrs. William Fretz, Mrs. Clifford Baker, Mrs. Robert Bergman, Mrs. Michael Strait, and Mrs. Jess Stewart.

RECEIVING AN INVITATION to attend a pre-election citizens' meeting is Miss Sharon Evans of 481 Park Blvd., from Sue Yazel of 324 Carner Ave., and Shirley Hoffman of 920 Sheridan Rd. Sue and Shirley were two of about 30 students of Miss Edith Brown's Harding High School citizenship class stationed on downtown streets Saturday handing out the invitations. Some of the students were dressed in old clothes, and some in new clothes, symbolizing one of the issues facing voters, that of a new city charter for Marion.

Japan

could run around 300,000 to 350,000 men.

Less Aid Possible

Persons familiar with the talks between Ikeda and Asst. Secretary of State Walter S. Robertson said Ikeda has indicated that with the scale of aid offered by Washington his government will be able to do substantially less than Dulles indicated.

One speculation is that the negotiations may end with an agreement roughly to double the present national security force of 110,000 men, apart from small air and naval forces.

Ikeda is reported to have come seeking U. S. commitments of extensive economic as well as military aid. The United States has not had an economic aid program for Japan for several years. Informants said privately this policy would continue.

Oil Stove Explodes; House and Trailer Damaged by Blaze

Two fire calls and three inhalator cases were reported today by the Marion Fire Department. Estimated loss from the fires was $800.

At 6:05 p.m. Sunday, an oil stove in the home of Donald Abrams, 290 Oliver St., exploded setting fire to the inside of the house and a trailer next to the house. Damage to the house and trailer was estimated at $700.

Another $50 damage was done to the house next to Abrams when heat from the fire scorched the paint on the home of Clarence Cunningham, 286 Oliver St. The fire was put out by men from the W. Center St. station.

A short circuit in the heater under the seat of a car owned by Lillian Blovens caused damage estimated at $50, Sunday at 2:50 p.m. The car was in front of 520 Euclid Ave. Firement on the Township truck answered the call.

The inhalator crew was called to aid Garfield Purvis, 73, of Lovington, Ill. Sunday evening at 9:50. He became ill at the home of George Clark, 850 Congress St. according to fire department reports. The inhalator was used successfully for 10 minutes.

Another inhalator call was answered at 2:37 p.m. Saturday, at the home of Mrs. Mabel Lord, 550 N. State St. Fire department officials said her son John, 28, of 206 Neil Ave. had suffered a nervous attack. The inhalator was used for about 15 minutes. Then the man was taken to City Hospital.

The other inhalator call was reported at 11:33 p.m. Saturday, Mrs. Isadore Stein of 258 Clover Ave. was reported to have suffered an attack of asthma. The inhalator was used 15 minutes. The woman was taken to City Hospital after the treatment.

Democrats and a few Republican congressmen.

President Eisenhower, who defended his agriculture secretary at last weeks's news conference, took the somewhat unusual step Saturday of issuing a statement of confidence. Eisenhower said his administration will come up with a farm program which will help farmers "secure their fair share" of the nation's income and work for the good of the whole economy.

The occasion Saturday was his meeting with a farm policy commission working with Benson on a farm program to be submitted to Congress around the first of the year. Eisenhower said he was heartened that the commission members feel farm price declines of the last two years are "pretty well behind us."

Politicians Jittery

Despite the President's warm endorsement of Benson, many practical GOP politicians were reported to believe the secretary's weeks in the Cabinet are numbered unless he comes out for fixed, high-level price supports.

However, Chairman Leonard W. Hall of the Republican National Committee said on an NBC television program last night he does not regard Benson as a political liability. He said most criticism of the secretary has come from persons who would oppose him regardless of what he does, merely because he is a Republican.

the day when they will no longer need America's economic help. In the past 15 months, the board said in its monthly bulletin, foreign nations did what they have not been able to do since World War II—they sold the United States more than they bought here.

George, whose views are influential in shaping Senate Democratic policy on international issues, called also for abolition of the Foreign Operations Administration. He said technical assistance programs to other nations should be turned back to the State Department, a view shared by Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont).

You will decide on November 3—

YES — To ride on better roads WHILE YOU PAY

NO — To delay until AFTER YOU PAY

It's just that simple—the choice of every Ohio voter will make when he comes to the No. 1 Adequate Highways amendment on the big ballot this election day.

VOTE YES, and those safer, smoother, straighter highways will actually be yours to ride on as much as ten years sooner—at no extra cost. You already are paying all the bill in taxes and licenses on your motor vehicle and gasoline. Not a penny will come from real estate!

But if you vote no, those modern major routes will remain only a dream and a promise—impossible to attain as we continue to wait for taxes to be collected in dribbles. Either way you vote, it costs no more. The same money that pays bond interest on a YES vote will be poured wastefully into filling chuck-holes if we unwisely vote NO.

So . . . save taxes . . . save lives . . . save money . . . save time!

VOTE YES ON AMENDMENT NO. 1

These Days

By George Sokolsky

The Chinese and North Korean prisoners of war, who defied the Communist "explainers," have demonstrated an east Asiatic characteristic which perhaps only those who have lived in those countries really understand.

SOKOLSKY

The boycott, the sitdown strike, the universal shutting of shops, students' strikes and similar acts of resistance have long been practiced in Asia. Gandhi's concepts of passive resistance might have been influenced by Tolstoy's ideas, but they did not originate with the Russian. They are normal to Asia.

In the old days, when the emperor of China sent an official, a governor, a magistrate, or tax collector to an area, the people tolerated him if he showed justice, which meant that he functioned according to the traditional Confucian moral precepts which were within the tradition of the people and therefore understood by all

IF, HOWEVER, the official bedeviled the people, if he extorted more from them than they believed to be reasonable, they simply closed their doors and did nothing. Imagine what could happen to such cities as New York or Washington if everybody did nothing for a 10-day period!

Precisely that happened in the whole of China in May, 1919 and I thrilled to every moment of it because it was a demonstration of pure democracy such as we have never witnessed in the western world. In a country which never held an election, it was a referendum by the people on a great public issue.

What happened was that news came to China that Woodrow Wilson had made a deal at the Paris Peace Conference which was to satisfy everybody and actually pleased no one: He had arranged that the Italians were to get Trieste while the Japanese were to remain in the Chinese province of Shantung. The students in the schools and colleges of Peking and Shanghai heard that their government had decided to agree to the deal.

THEREUPON the students went out on strike. Their action was normal to Chinese tradition when the government does a wrong, the people just do nothing. All activity ceases. The parents of these boys and girls sympathized with them; therefore there was no pressure on anyone to go to school. In a few days, all schools and colleges throughout China shut down.

Then the factory workers, railroad workers, government employes quit work to prove that they were as patriotic as the students. Finally, all the merchants shut their shops and boarded up their windows.

It was an amazing, unorganized demonstration of public opinion.

It was wholly effective because China never signed the Paris Treaty. The government bowed to the adamant will of the people. Actually, it is impossible to make such a people do anything when they have decided to do nothing

—.—

ON MAY 30, 1925, when an Indian (Sikh) policeman in the employ of the Shanghai municipal council shot down a Chinese employed in a Japanese factory, a similar demonstration occurred. Accompanying this was an anti-British boycott of such intensity that it paved the way for the Nationalist revolution and produced a series of new treaties which changed all the relations between Chinese and foreign countries.

The people just did not buy British goods. The greatest gain for China was the abolition of extraterritoriality, which has since largely disappeared from the world, except for diplomats and for China was the abolition of extra the city of New York.

THIS CHARACTERISTIC of resistance to force, pressure, coercion is so normal among Chinese that heretofore it has been indomitable. Therefore the "explainers" at Panmunjom failed. It could not have been otherwise The little lies they told, such as that Chiang Kai-shek is dead and that the Chinese Communists have taken Formosa, disclose to me another Chinese characteristic.

It means to me that the Chinese and North Korean prisoners of war have somehow established a contact with the Nationalists in Formosa. It will not be believed in our sophisticated America, but in the 1919 resistance, there were no telegraphs, no telephones, no radios, no usual means of communications in the modern world, yet 48-hours after Shanghai students left their schools, the entire student body in 4,000,000 square miles of China was out. Everywhere committees had come into existence. Old peoples have curious ways.

RHYME AND REASON. It's easy as A-B-C to tell the 38-day-old Roberts triplets (shown with mother) apart. The reason is their middle initials. To keep their identities straight, their parents, Mr. and Mrs. T B. Roberts of Taylorville, Ky., assigned each child a letter in order of its birth To top this they gave the babies rhyming names. That makes them Randy A., Tandy B., and Sandy C

Discussion Set on Green Camp Levy

GREEN CAMP — All voters in Green Camp village have been invited by letter to meet at the Township Hall Tuesday to hear from members of council and its attorney, William Gracely, the necessity for passing the four-mill levy to provide street lights in Green Camp

Members of council have stated that the favorable vote of the people is a must or the street lights will be extinguished immediately For the past 25 years the C, D. and M, and the Ohio Edison Co have furnished free street lights through an agreement at that time when the lighting equipment plant was sold and moved to its present location further south on the Scioto River.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

ALBANY

There is evidence here in Gov. Dewey's state capital that half of those who visited Joe Fay, the Mr Big of labor crime, and half of those who wrote letters to the governor and his parole board pleading for clemency for the extortioner—were businessmen.

RIESEL

These included executives of firms whom Fay had shaken down.

No writer can keep his card in the fraternity as an objective newsman without reporting that some of the most fervent pleas in behalf of a man who made millions in shakedowns, came from the heads of companies in the construction trade

Away back in 1950, shortly after Fay had been slapped into the pen for helping to shake heavy construction firms out of some $700,000, Gov. Dewey received a letter from the R. A. Pearson Associates, Inc, 686 Union St, Springfield, Mass, saying that somebody there "has always felt Joe was framed as goat . . ."

EXPENSIVE GOAT, this Joey boy, who has not yet revealed what happened to the hundreds of thousands in shakedowns—which he perhaps will use to live comfortably in warmer climes after he is released

Certainly on this list of letter writers is AFL Executive Council member Harry C. Bates, leader of the Bricklayers Union,—but so is Allan S. Platt, executive Secretary of the Brick Manufacturers of New York. Of the partial list now in my hands, there are some 35 businessmen and their attorneys, including the New Jersey gubernatorial candidate, Paul L. Troast, who wrote as president of the Mahony Troast Construction Co. on Jan. 19, 1951.

Why do these businessmen join in such efforts to free a notorious terrorist? Who came to them? Were they threatened? They have the clues to the breaking of a national story. Why then are they silent? Just how could Joe Fay in a New York jail, reach out and get Congressman Kersten of Wisconsin and California political and labor figures to intercede for him? Who were the "prominent labor leaders" who came to Kirsten and asked him to intervene in a situation about which he knew nothing?

THIS WEIRD picture of businessmen consorting with a handful of tough union leaders is as repulsive as a snakepit. Why, for example, when I dropped in at the last Joseph P. Ryan Association annual dinner-dance at New York's Hotel Commodore in 1952, did I find representatives of virtually every major shipline in the East" They knew they were sitting with racketeers. Yet they came.

In fact, the Steam Ship Trade Association of Baltimore sent a special delegation. The French Line were there.

So were executives from the U. S. Trucking Co, the U. S. Fruit Co, the U. S. Lines, the New York and Cuba Mail Steamship Co., the American President Lines and the Jarka Corp, the world's largest stevedoring firm.

—.—

THIS REFUSAL to tackle the corrupt union officials is nationwide. In St. Louis, for example, the grand jury said it regreted the fact that "the labor racketeering investigation was not commenced sooner than it was. The delay was probably due to the fact that contractors and others feared for their lives at the hands of the racketeers, until their businesses—their very livelihoods—were so seriously threatened that they had no alternative but to disclose the disgraceful situation that existed"

In some instances, district attorneys have had to pursue businessmen thousands of miles before they could get them to testify.

This ugly business of dealing with the mobs because it's the easiest way out has hardly been uncovered. Even the little we know is the result of accident Had not a Bronx janitors union leader been murdered, the Fay scandal, first broken in this column, would not have been revealed by any of the scores in labor, business and political circles who visited him in jail for some favor or wrote for his release.

QUIXOTICALLY enough, the scandal broke because some businessman did a favor for a union official This is what touched off the entire political explosion which has done so much damage to Gov Dewey's machine in New York A fellow prisoner of Joe Fay, by name of Snakes Ryan, wanted out He contacted a New York Building Service Employes Union business agent, who then wrote the New York parole board asking for Snakes' freedom and guaranteeing him a job. Snakes was sprung.

The business agent went to a realtor on New York's Lexington Ave. and asked that he hire Snakes. This was done Soon enough Snakes Ryan pushed Tommy Lewis out of union politics with some well-placed lead Lewis no longer competed with Joe Fay for power over race track labor Thus the scandal broke And it was the crusading press—not labor, not management, not government—that ripped it wide open.

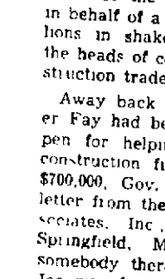
"Next Door to Gas Office"

Deep Purple

By Inez Robb

HARTFORD, Conn.

One of the immortal quatrains of our language was written by Gelett Burgess to the effect



INEZ ROBB

"I never saw a purple cow.'

I never hope to see one;

But I can tell you anyway,

I'd rather see than be one."

I would like to stretch Mr Burgess sentiments to include a purple house I would rather see than own one. but either prospect is frightening And I have been frightened plenty in the past few days.

This community has purple houses. And not just one but plenty in the fashionable residential and suburban areas I don't know how it is in your town, but the barn-red house that so shocked sober - minded citizens when it began to appear in respectable neighborhood 15 years ago is now not only old - hat but ultra conservative in Hartford.

IN THIS AREA a new house in chic residential districts is really not a home unless it is painted apple green, baby, alice, powder, robin's egg or Mediterranean blue, magenta plum, mulberry; butter sunflower or marigold yellow chocolate or coffee brown; raspberry, strawberry or rose pink, and grays from pearl to oxford.

The new homes on the outskirts of Hartford — and these are big houses, no row cracker - boxes—give the impression of a collision between the aurora borealis, the spectrum and a paint truck. It ain't enough a house is painted purple it's also got to have buttercup trim and shutters.

I strongly suspect there must have been a fine sale in this community on a sort of mal de mer-green paint. There just couldn't be so many houses painted that color otherwise.

THE MAL DE MER spreads too far into the countryside to make any other explanation logical.

Plum, a color I had heretofore never associated with the outside of a house, is another favorite in the rich suburbs of Hartford. Plum with white trim and shutters is apparently what the Dior of the building industry has ordered for the current season. It gives the community a fine, rich Easter egg appeal.

Perhaps I live a sheltered life, shuttling between New York and New Jersey, where the old-fashioned white house is still standard stuff. But this rainbow or ice cream sundae decor around Hartford comes as a distinct esthetic surprise. No one had told me that Picasso is now in the building trades

Something new, at least to me has also been added in exterior decoration in the substitution of a wood stain for paint on some of the new mansions.

AT LEAST ONE man's castle in this community is stained shiny black. Its trim and shutters are of chalk white, lending to the ensemble the look of fashionable skeleton. I hope the kids don't overlook this on Halloween. It's a natural.

What a man with a hangover does in this colorful town, I hear, is to keep the shades tightly drawn until he is able to tell a pink elephant from a house of the same shade.

Hartford is the nation's insurance capital, the seat of the most conservative industry in America I can only surmise that the insurance tycoons work out their inhibitions in house paint. I suppose it's better than rifling the safe or running off with the steno, but not much.

PUCO Sees Law Aiding Phone Service

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Talking 'long distance' today, the public utilities commission predicted a time when all of Ohio will have good telephone service

'It may be a few years" the commission said, 'but it is practically inevitable"

The commission's optimistic prediction results mainly from a new state law effective today—designed to marshal rebellious or inefficient telephone companies into line

The new Henderson law states that under certain conditions, the commission can order one telephone company to combine with another Or, if this is not accomplished within reasonable time the commission can order a smoothly running company to take over the troubled territory

Service in a controversial area however must be proved inadequate and the company operating there must be shown unable or unwilling to expand or improve service

Commission Chairman Robert L Moulton warned there probably never will be a time when all telephone users are content but he added Our goal is to see that Ohio has telephone service as good or better than any other state in the nation

Another section of the Henderson law states no telephone company can pay any kind of a dividend without commission approval — if there is a commission finding of inadequate service pending against it or if the company is in violation of a commission order

Color Confusion

If you want to get real confused some time, try dropping around the networks and asking them about color television. Color TV is very definitely in your future but when, where, how much and so forth are shrouded in controversy.

J. CROSBY

For example Richard Salant, vice president of CBS, will tell you that there isn't a single color television set that you and I could operate in the home with any degree of reliability. Pat Weaver, vice chairman of NBC, retorts that, of course, there is a color set ready for the home. (An RCA set, naturally.) The evidence seems to support Mr. Salant. I've never seen any color TV demonstrations yet without clouds of technicians hanging around to adjust the sets and even the technicians have lots of trouble.

AN NBC VICE PRESIDENT, one of the few people on earth who has a color television set in his home, was showing it off to a young lady one day. The picture came in solid green. "Well, anyhow, I've seen green television," said the young lady cheerfully. "How many other people can make that statement?"

Color TV under laboratory conditions — which is to say with platoons of engineers on hand — is pretty wonderful. NBC recently put on a daily 15-minute show from the Colonial Theater in New York to the Center Theater where the advertiser could see how luscious his products looked in color.

If you'd dropped in, you'd have seen a close-up of steaming Campbell's pork and beans in an earthenware bowl — all its rich wonderful locked - in goodness in four colors. Or you might have seen a cute trick named Marie McNamara showing off her Dreft shampooed hair which looked mighty pretty, too.

-:-

MISS McNAMARA is a sort of guinea pig over at NBC. For two and a half years, she has sat under the blinding (though not hot) lights while makeup men tried every known makeup on her. Sometimes they'd divide her face down the middle, doing one side one way, one another ("I thought they were going to use me for 'before' and 'after' ads," she said.) Sometimes, her arms were covered with patches of various colors.

All over town, from CBS to Dumont, makeup people are happily splashing makeup on the human epidermis and arriving at wildly conflicting conclusions. Salant will tell you that color TV needs less makeup than black and white. Street makeup looks fine. Stage makeup looks awful, he says. But Bill Baird, the puppeteer who has been doing a puppet show in color for weeks, says he tried eight different kinds of makeup, finally arrived at a heavy makeup of greasepaint with pancake over it which would certainly look strange on the street.

AND AT THE NBC demonstrations, Ed Herlihy and Nelson Case who narrated the show, were discovered wandering around with faces splashed with what Mr. Herlihy described as "corpse gray," an apt description. It would certainly cause a flutter on the street.

The trouble isn't that color TV is not true — actually, it's truer than Technicolor — but that it's too true. People's faces and especially their ears, are a lot redder than we think and the color cameras bring out something we tend not to notice in real life.

For years to come, color TV broadcasters are going to have to argue with people not because of what they see but what they think they see. Weaver wearily predicts that the ad agency man of tomorrow will make a career of saying: "The red wasn't quite right last night." And color TV may make some radical adjustments in the kind of girls we'll get to look at. Some bleached blondes look awful in it.

MUCH OF WHAT FINALLY comes out on the screen is the result of what the technicians adjusting the set do to it — and ultimately you'll be your own technician and have to fiddle with your own knobs. You can wreck a lot of havoc. A couple of years ago NBC was running a series of color tests in Washington, showing among other things a bowl of fruit. One day, just for the hell of it, those on the transmitting end threw a bunch of green bananas in the bowl.

Technicians on the monitoring set labored for half a day to get the bananas to turn the right color. Finally, the set technicians called up and announced triumphantly: "Well, I got your yellow bananas —but your apples are blue."

10th Cobra Captured

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP) — The 10th hooded cobra found slithering loose in the southern Missouri city this fall was captured yesterday. It was taken to both local TV stations and televised.

Springfield's cobra scare started in late summer, when the reptiles began appearing in the vicinity of a pet shop operated by an animal importer. He has denied the cobras came from his shop.

Drivers Urged To Use Extra Care at Night

October is a particularly dangerous month for driving, Marion police and state patrolmen warned today.

During this month motorists are still accustomed to the long, light evenings of summer, they are not prepared for the shorter fall days. So in the early evening hours they proceed at the same speed and with the same amount of caution as they did in the summer months. Authorities warn that motorists should travel only at a speed possible for them to stop within the distance covered by their headlight beams.

And cars should be checked regularly, since split-second response is a must for night driving, they said.

A couple of warnings to pedestrians were issued, too. They should walk on the sidewalk, or, if there is none, walk on the left shoulder facing traffic. Pedestrians should also wear light clothing or carry a flashlight.

Bicyclists also got a couple of warnings. They were told to have a good headlight and tail light and add white stripping or some type of reflectorized material. They too, were cautioned to wear light clothing but were told to ride on the right side of the road with traffic.

Police and patrolmen also had a few words for the parents of small children. The danger to children out Halloweening in dark costumes and masks which obstruct vision was pointed out.

The best way to protect the children is to keep them off the streets at this time of year with parties and other activities.

Warrant Served Sunday Irks Los Angeles Family

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sheriff's Deputy Robert M. Haisten, 38, went to the home of Joseph B. Reynolds yesterday to serve divorce papers. There he said, "the whole family jumped on me. They didn't like the idea of getting served on a Sunday."

Haisten summoned police reinforcements, and Reynolds' brother Fred, 25, was booked on suspicion of battery. Haisten suffered several cuts on the face and numerous bruises.

The Koreans have been nicknamed the "Irish of the Orient."

REVIVES DEAD PATIENT

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—A Lima surgeon who says he pronounced dead on the operating table scientifically, the surname said he brought a patient back from death recently. He said he was sewing up an incision after an ulcer operation on Arthur J. Libert, 36. Libert's heart stopped. The doctor opened a hole in his chest, thrust his hand inside and massaged, squeezed and pinched until the heart began beating again. Libert will leave the hospital this week but he was "predead, the surgeon said.

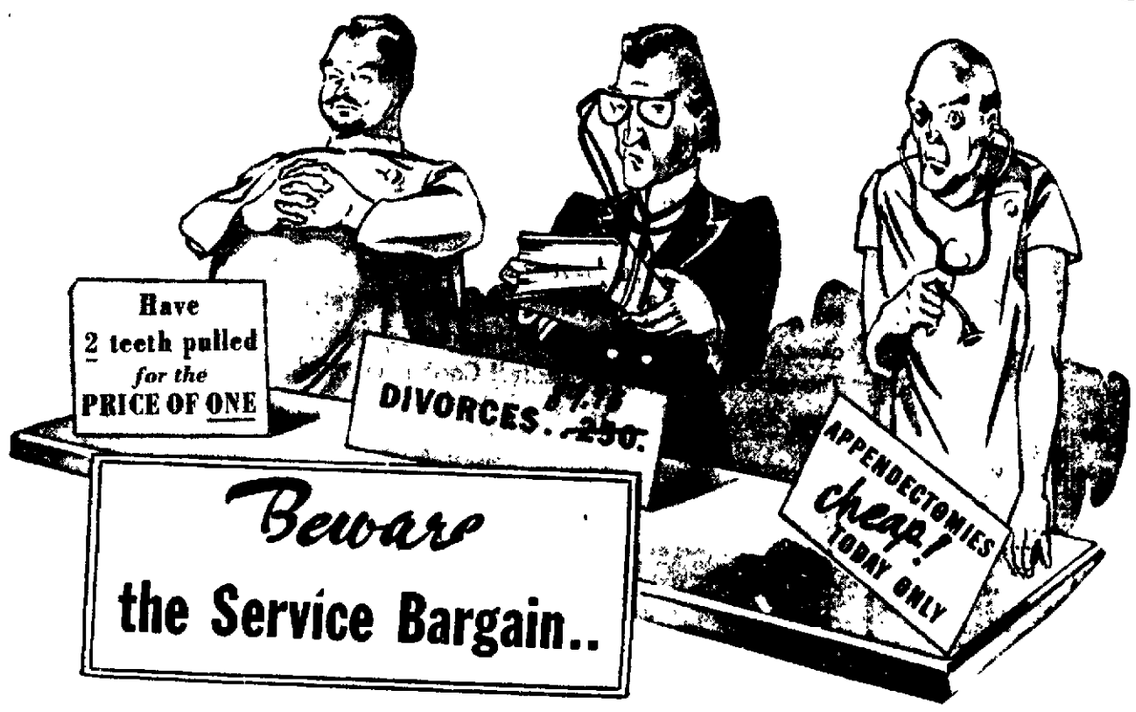
There are "No" such things, as, BARGAIN SERVICE CALLS!



You'll never see your doctor advertise a special sale on appendectomies . . .
You'll never see your lawyer announce cut-rates for divorce cases . . .
You'll never see your dentist hold a "2-for-1" sale on extractions . . .
AND You'll never see the day when you can take your TV set in for a service "bargain" and be sure you're getting a square deal!

"Bargains" in home electronic service are as scarce as the proverbial hen's teeth! Here's why—

The expert service technician, just like other professional people, must undergo years of study and apprenticeship to learn the fundamentals of his skill. And a minimum investment of from $3000 to $6000 per shop technician is required for the necessary equipment to test today's highly complex sets. Finally, through manufacturer's training courses and his own technical journals, he must keep up with changes that are developing as fast as they ever did in medicine, law, or dentistry. Those best equipped to apply modern scientific methods are almost certain to be most economical for you and definitely more satisfactory in the long run.

Unfortunately, as in any business, there will always be a few fly-by-night operators. But patients, clients, and TV set owners who recognize that you get only what you pay for, will never get gypped. "There just ARE no service bargains"...but there is GOOD SERVICE awaiting you at FAIR PRICES!

WHY THEY SAY:
"We'd Never be Without Father John's Medicine"
In many homes Father John's Medicine is always on hand—because its use has become a habit from one generation to another. Today mothers are giving it to their children because their mothers gave it to them when they were young.
This unusual family confidence is the result of proven merit. Try it for yourself. It has been used by millions for over 95 years.

Red Leader Critical After Prison Beating

NEW YORK (AP)—Communist leader Robert G. Thompson's condition is reported still critical from a beating over the head by another federal prisoner last Friday. However, he is said to be resting comfortably.

This was reported yesterday by the superintendent's office at the federal house of detention, where Thompson was being held pending a trial for contempt.

A Yugoslav alien, Alexander Pavlovirch, 32, assaulted Thompson with an iron pipe Friday, a few hours before the Yugoslav was to have been deported.

Federal officials noted that Pavlovich claims to be an anti-Communist and said ideological factors may be involved in the incident. However, the authorities expressed belief Pavlovich chiefly wanted to avoid deportation.

If so, he succeeded, at least temporarily. On Saturday U. S. Commissioner Edward McDonald ordered him held in $25,000 bail on an assault charge. The commissioner scheduled a Nov. 6 hearing on the charge, which could bring a 10-year prison sentence.

It is estimated that U. S. farmers have about 750,000 horsepower available to them in various types of machines on their farm.

Burke Says He's 'Internationalist Middle-Roader'

WASHINGTON (AP)— Thomas A. Burke, named successor to the late Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio), described himself last night as "a middle of the road" Democrat and "internationalist."

In a CBS television interview, his replies on most controversial issues were either wait - and - see or tentative.

Asked if he feels obligated to follow Taft's voting record, he said no, because "you couldn't really know how Taft would vote on the questions that will come up next year."

But Burke, who will be mayor of Cleveland for two more weeks, did say he will not vote for a manufacturer-level excise tax, nor for reorganizing the Senate, controlled by Republicans although Democrats have a 48-47 majority edge.

Many of the early settlers in Nova Scotia were Scots and the inhabitants of Cape Breton Island, a part of Nova Scotia, often still speak Gaelic and keep alive the tradition of the Highland Games.

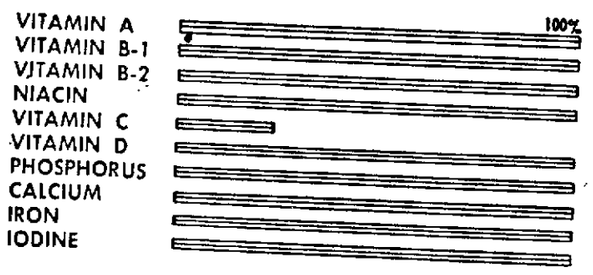
Gail Borden Skimmed Milk in One-Way QUARTS

Now . Borden scientists have enabled us to fortify pure fresh milk with extra amounts of these vital nutrients. This is the biggest milk news since the discovery of pasteurization —and the most interesting nutrition story in many years. You know how important vitamins and minerals are to your health. Now, for the first time, you can get extra vitamin-mineral protection in a single food! Just one quart of Gail Borden Milk—either whole or skimmed—brings you the minimum adult daily requirements of the 9 most important vitamins and minerals—at very low cost!

This chart tells the story

Here is shown in chart form just how Gail Borden Milk meets your dietary needs. The chart shows the percent of the minimum adult daily requirements of vitamins and minerals — according to U.S. Food & Drug Adm. standards — supplied by one quart of Gail Borden Whole or Skimmed Milk. (Vitamin C is not added because it is not stable. C is found abundantly in tomatoes and citrus fruits.)



Ask your doctor! If your doctor thinks there is a possibility that you're not getting enough vitamins and minerals, ask him about Gail Borden Milk.

Two kinds of Gail Borden . . one of them just for you

For most persons . . .
Gail Borden Whole Milk

This is pure, whole milk . . . produced under ideal conditions . . . and especially guarded all the way from Borden-inspected farms to you. It is perfectly homogenized for even flavor, for uniform richness, and for easy digestability.

We all know how important vitamins and minerals are — but usually we go on eating what we like. That's why Gail Borden can be so valuable . . . because most everyone likes milk. And though you may not drink an entire quart every day — what you do drink gives you that much extra protection.

The fortification with extra vitamins and minerals does not change the flavor of Gail Borden Milk in any way whatever! As far as taste is concerned, Gail Borden is just pure, fresh homogenized milk. But what a difference when it comes to nutrition . . . because it can be your extra margin of protection!

For people on diets . . .
Gail Borden Skimmed Milk

Persons on a diet should be especially careful to get plenty of vitamins, minerals and proteins. When the total food intake is reduced, it becomes more difficult than ever to get enough of these "protective" dietary factors — yet the need for them remains the same, whether you are dieting or not

Gail Borden Skimmed Milk solves this difficulty! One quart contains only 421 calories . . . but contains 100% of the daily minimum needs of nine out of ten vitamins and minerals. Because it contains added non-fat milk solids, it is extra high in protein, too. And another important fact is that Gail Borden tastes good — not at all like ordinary "skim":

With Gail Borden Skimmed Milk, you can lose weight — safely! First, of course, get the advice of your doctor. Then use Gail Borden to help you plan a safe low-calorie diet!

Irish Combine Aerials, Running Game for 55-6 Win

Win Over Richwood Gives St. Mary Lead in League

By JOHN SHORT

St. Mary combined a power-packed ground game with a sharp-shooting aerial attack Saturday night to hand Richwood a 55-6 whipping in a Mid-Ohio Conference game. The win gave the Irish undisputed possession of the league lead and proved them the class of the circuit.

Scoring almost at will the St Mary squad was sparked to the victory by the running of Mike Anderson, Larry Ryan and little Johnny Messenger who handled the ground assignments and the right arm of Quarterback Roger Micheli who put on one of the most impressive passing shows seen here for several years.

Tigers Overwhelmed

The Tigers who went into the game no less than two-touchdown underdogs, managed to make it a close contest for the first six minutes After that it was all over The Irish took complete control of the game and Richwood never had a chance

Only consolation for Coach Fritz Drodofsky's Tigers was the fact they managed to score against St Mary, something no other team had managed to do. Richwood scored after St Mary's first TD when Bob Roberts broke through the line shook his way free of a tackler and went 63 yards to paydirt.

Ray Robbins' charges putting on one of the most impressive offensive shows ever staged by a St. Mary team was in a complete charge of the tilt The winners' superiority can be seen in the statistics The Irish rolled up a total of 607 yards Of that total, 322 yards came on the ground while the passing netted 285.

Micheli threw 20 times, completing 11 Two of the completions were for touchdowns while most of the others accounted for long gains when a first down was needed The win gave the Irish a record of five wins without a defeat and boosted their season scoring mark to 145 points to the lone six for the opposition. It was the highest single game total scored by a St. Mary team in several seasons.

Attack Falls

The Richwood attack stood up for or the first period Following St. Mary's second touchdown, only Roberts was able to move consistently against the Irish defenders. Aerials thrown by Tom Shields were a threat but the Tigers were unable to shake loose any receivers and only short gains resulted. Just before the halftime intermission, the visitors managed to drive for a first down at the St. Mary 12-yard stripe but time ran out after Dave Kraft stopped Shields at the six. Bob Campton, John Kelly, Ed Quinn and Pat O'Connor led the Irish defenders in stopping the Richwood attack

The Irish scored first after eight minutes had passed. Larry Ryan took a handoff from Micheli, cut through a hole opened by the entire forward wall and scooted 30 yards for the score. Jerry Ballenger, who started at a guard and ended the game in the backfield, followed with one of six conversions.

The Tigers came right back to dent the Irish goal for the first time this year Fred Cheney returned the kickoff to the Richwood 37 and Roberts followed with his 63-yard jaunt.

The Irish, apparently irritated at the score came back to drive to a TD in four plays. Mike Anderson took a pitchout from Micheli at the 37 and heaved a southpaw aerial to Don Shoemaker at the 25 Shoemaker wriggled away from three tacklers and went all the way. From that point the Irish turned the game into a rout.

All Score Twice

Anderson, Shoemaker, Messenger and Shoemaker all crossed the Richwood goal line twice Ballenger followed six of the scores with conversions while the seventh extra point came on a pass from Micheli to O'Connor. The pass was thrown from kicking position after two penalties had moved the ball to the 12.

—:—

Mike Anderson celebrated a birthday Saturday with one of his most impressive grid performances. His mates serenaded the redhead ace in the showers after the game.

The scoreboard blinked out midway in the final period after a hard workout by the St. Mary scoring machine. The score at the time stood at 48-6 but it was repaired in time to post the final tally by the Irish.

—:—

Both teams became a little rougher than usual in the final stages. Officials were given a brief workout in keeping the gridders from each other's throats and three from each team were waved to the benches.

—:—

Roger McGee, Mansfield Madison coach, had the Irish well-scouted. One scout was in the pressbox charting plays while other were seated in the stands The Irish play Mansfield here in two weeks. The scouts left early in the fourth period, impressed by the St. Mary aerial attack and the defensive work of the Line.

Grudge Tag Event Booked at Armory

A grudge tag team match will be one of the two events on Thursday night's wrestling card at the armory The match will feature Paul Orth and Mr. Satan teamed up against Joe Cassius and Irish McGee for two out of three falls with no time limit.

In the other event Billy Fox will defend his tri-state championship belt against Scottie Williams. The match is scheduled for two out of three falls with no time limit

The grudge match arose out of an impromptu fight between Orth and Cassius last Thursday night. The two were going against Cowboy Curry and George Thomas, when Thomas hit Orth But Orth thought his partner had thrown the blow and left him alone to finish the match. Later in the basement a fight broke out between Orth and Cassius, and police had to step in to break it up Finally each agreed to pick partners for a grudge tag team match.

Tech, Spartans Fall

Notre Dame Stands Alone As Upsets Jumble Picture

By ED CORIGAN

NEW YORK (AP)—The 1953 college football season, you might say, will start next Saturday for just about every top team in the country except Notre Dame.

Frank Leahy's legions today stood head and shoulders over the pack and if they don't crush Navy just as they've beaten down all their opposition so far the experts will be jumping off high buildings in droves.

At the moment, the longest winning streak among the major schools is a modest 11 compiled by West Virginia, which won six last year and has won five more this season

For Georgia Tech, which fell before the Notre Dame powerhouse, and Michigan State, which dropped a 6-0 decision to Purdue, hitherto the patsy of the Big Ten, the dream world is gone. Now they're back in reality.

The Engineers had run up a string of 31 games without a defeat, although they were tied twice, before Johnny Lattner and company slugged them 27-14 last Saturday, Notre Dame tore the relatively light Tech line to shreds Neil Worden balled over for one score. Ralp Guglielmi passed to Joe Heap for another, Art Hunter fell on a bad pass from center in the end zone for No. 3 and Lattner made the fourth from two yards out.

The Engineers tied it at 7-7 in the third period before Notre Dame broke loose, but Leahy did not get a chance to see the triumph. He suffered a muscular spasm in the third quarter and was hospitalized. He will remain under observation for several days

Tech got off to a shaky start this season and there were predictions that the streak which began on Nov. 25, 1950, wouldn't last out the schedule The Ramblin' Wrecks visit Vanderbilt this week, so they should have a skein of one by nightfall next Saturday

Michigan State had won 28 in a row before getting its comeuppance from Purdue, which had dropped four games without getting in the win column. To make the defeat even more humiliating, the Boilermakers, who snapped a 39 game Notre Dame string in 1950, hadn't been able to hold any opponent to less than 14 points, but they effectively bottled up the great Spartan backs and made their only touchdown on a 55-yard drive that took 10 plays. Dan Pobojewski, former Michigan State student, crashed over from the 1.

Anyone want to bet against Purdue when they play Illinois Saturday?

The Big Ten race is now scrambled like breakfast eggs Michigan, which was supposed to give State a run for its money, also was the victim of a mighty upset. Minnesota, no great shakes, trounced the Wolverines 22-0 when All-America Paul Giel finally decided to take complete charge by himself He scored twice, and passed to the other Gopher touchdown in handling the ball 53 times.

That left Illinois, which beat Syracuse 20-13, in undisputed possession of first place in the loop And here was a team that wasn't supposed to have a chance at the start.

Navy perhaps was spending its time on Franklin Field looking ahead to the Notre Dame game. At any rate, Penn, the Ivy League outfit with the suicidal schedule, beat the Middies, ranked No. 10 in the weekly Associated Press poll, 9-6, in another major upset.

West Virginia, after slugging Virginia Military Institute 52-20, seems to have clear sailing the rest of the way. Penn State is its next and probably strongest opponent.

Whatever the reason—and it's probably the one-platoon system—the picture is completely confused right below Notre Dame. Oklahoma, which started, seems to be snapping back in stride. It knocked off Colorado 27-7 Saturday. The Sooners shouldn't lose any more at the rate they're going.

Another strong outfit is Baylor, which took care of Texas A&M 14-13. The Bruins still are unbeaten and rule the choice to win the Southwest Conference title. But they still have four league foes to play—Texas Christian, Texas, Southern Methodist and Rice—so anything can happen.

On the Pacific Coast, UCLA, despite its upset at the hands of Stanford a week ago, could take the conference title. The Uclans, warmed up to the California game Saturday by slaughtering Washington State 44-7. Southern Cal took a lot of the wind out of California by beating the Golden Bears 32-20.

47 Collegiate Squads Still Unbeaten, Untied

NEW YORK (AP)—Forty-seven college football teams remained undefeated and untied today, following an eventful weekend which saw powerful Michigan State, among others, taste defeat for the first time this season.

Peru (Neb) State Teachers heads the list with seven victories. Maryland is the leader among the major schools with six wins Baylor has five triumphs and Notre Dame four.

Borton To See Action; Injury Benches Dugger

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State University football team physicians say quarterback John Borton will see limited action Saturday but end Dean Dugger will miss the Northwestern game.

Dugger was kicked in the head last Saturday and was unconscious three minutes Borton has missed two games because of ankle injury.

TRIPLE DEAD HEAT. Track officials say this is the first triple dead heat to win in the history of harness racing. Pacers Patchover (4) driven by Ed Myer; Payne Hall (7) (center) driven by F. Albertson, and Penny Maid (5) driven by E. Beede, hit finish line together at Freehold, N J. Time for the mile was 2.12 2-5.

Boilermakers Preparing for Illinois Next

CHICAGO (AP)—Purdue, the toast of the sentimental portion of the football world that rides with the little fellow, gets another crack Saturday at one of the big guys

In this case, the guy is the Big Ten's biggest—Illinois, the undefeated outfit that rides alone atop conference standings.

Purdue, which had lost four straight, pulled what was undoubtedly the season's greatest upset in toppling Michigan State. It was the Spartans' first defeat in 29 games, 6-0

When Minnesota, another vast underdog, humbled undefeated Michigan, 22-0, it left the Illini, 20-13 victors over Syracuse in a nonconference game, the conference's only unbeaten team.

The Illini have won four games—two of them in the Big Ten—but were tied in their opener by Nebraska.

Other games Saturday have Missouri at Indiana Iowa at Wisconsin, Penn at Michigan, Oregon at Michigan State, Pitt at Minnesota and Northwestern at Ohio State.

Ohio State beat Wisconsin 20-19 last Saturday, Iowa took Indiana 19-13 and Northwestern outlasted Pitt 27-21.

Detroit Dumps 49ers, Meets Rams for Lead

By ORLO ROBERTSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Commissioner Bert Bell must have been psychic when he made out the National Football League schedule because weekly, without fail, the slate of games has included at least one with an important bearing on the standings.

There was a game a week ago between Cleveland and Washington with the Browns winning to take undisputed lead of the Eastern Conference.

And then yesterday there was not one but two involving leaders of the Western Conference. The Detroit Lions, 1952 league champions, edged the San Francisco 49ers out of a share of the top rung, 14-10. But the Los Angeles Rams kept pace with the Lions by downing the Chicago Bears 38-24.

The victories of the Lions and the Rams made Bell's schedule look good again for the two teams meet Sunday in Los Angeles with each showing a record of four victories and one defeat

The 49ers' setback dropped them into a third place tie with the Baltimore Colts, who trounced the Washington Redskins 27-17. Each has a 3-2 record.

In the Eastern Conference the unbeaten Browns remained alone at the top with five victories after their usual close game with the New York Giants. The final score on the rain-soaked New York Polo Ground gridiron was 7-0. Pittsburgh moved into second place on the strength of its 31-14 Saturday night triumph over Green Bay.

But it remained for the Philadelphia Eagles to put on the real offensive display of the weekend. They defeated the winless Chicago Cardinals 56-17 to tie their own best scoring performance and give the Cards their worst NFL drubbing.

The 49ers, who dropped a 24-21 decision to the Lions at Detroit recently, had a 10-0 lead over the defending champions when Bobby Layne cut loose with two long passes The first one, late in the second period, went to Dorne Dibble, who ran 5 yards to complete a 47-yard scoring play. On the first play of the final quarter, Layne shot a long aerial down the middle to Ollie Cline for the winning tally.

By contrast, the Rams left the field at halftime on the long end of a 24-10 count on the strength

SHORT SPORTS

By John Short

Joe Slanser, well known Marion golfer, had the last laugh on his companions at the Marion Country Club Friday afternoon

SHORT

For several years, Mr Slanser has been warning his friends he was trying to shoot his age. His companions jokingly bet he would not make it.

Friday afternoon as the golfing season drew to a close he did it He toured 18 holes with a surprising 79 three under his age

He made the 18 holes with a 38 on the front nine and came in with a 41 on the back nine With the exception of the No 8 hole he one putted every hole on the starting nine His final scorecard showed nine pars, one birdie and eight bogies. His score was seven over par for the course

Mr Slanser is described by Jack Stoddard, country club pro as being the oldest golfer at the club both in years and golfing action. He is a charter member

WINTER VACATION Stoddard is winding up his duties at the Country Club course and making plans for the winter Last year he was active on the winter tournament trail but plans to enter none this year

He will soon leave for Texas where he will spend the winter loafing and looking forward to next summer's golfing activity He indicated he might plan a bigger Marion County tournament during his free hours The improved tourney would be on an elimination basis and would be played at the Country Club and Mar-O-Del Courses

UPSET MINDED. Ralph Webber's Waldo gridders apparently became tired of being used as a doormat in the six man Double M League Friday night They bumped undefeated Chesterville out of the league running with a 31-25 win

And taking a big part in the unexpected win was the Yake family No less than five (count 'em) Yakes were in action for the Marion County squad George, Don and Howard all played at end while Stan and Dale lugged the ball from backfield spots

MUSIC PROGRAM TONIGHT

The Lecture-Recital Club will present a string trio from Oberlin College in a public performance at Hotel Harding tonight at 8 o clock The student group includes a Marion girl Miss Wilma Lee Goepel violinist

Leahy Ready for Quick Return to Coaching Line

CHICAGO (AP)—That was quite a stomach ache Frank Leahy had Saturday.

Variously diagnosed as a heart attack a muscle spasm intestinal flu and "acute enteritis it became—because of its timing—even more celebrated than his Notre Dame football team's 27-14 victory over Georgia Tech

Attendants at St Joseph Hospital in nearby South Bend, Ind., were going along with the acute enteritis theory today One of them described it as nothing more than a high class stomach ache

Anyway, it was one of the most successful of its kind in history

It occurred at halftime and turned the Irish football team into a sobbing crew of crusaders determined to 'win for Leahy'

What they did is history Apparently feeling the lack of Leahy's firm leadership they let 7-0 lead slip away, but then mixing tears and prayers with power, they swamped the Engineers with a dedicated closing attack

Leahy complained of pain as his team was trooping into the Notre Dame dressing room at the end of the first half The attack was at first thought to be a heart seizure and he was given oxygen, the last sacraments of the Catholic Church and a swift trip by ambulance to the hospital

Don Per a Irish captain, was the only player to see him and thinking his coach near death blurted to his teammates the horrible implication

"They all cried like babies" said Assistant Coach Bill Early

Throughout the rest of the game Georgia Tech players noted that Notre Dame men kept wiping tears from their eyes

The Irish coach was reported clamoring to get out of the hospital as early as Saturday night but doctors scheduled further precautionary tests for this morning before giving him any word on when he could leave.

Ed (Moose) Krause, Notre Dame's athletic director, said he expected Leahy to be back on the coaching line later this week The undefeated Irish play Navy Saturday.

Robbery Case Shifts to Dallas

Question Pair Held In $150,000 Theft

WHEELING W Va (AP) — The Sammons robbery case shifted to Dallas, Tex today as Wheeling officers began preparations to return two alleged thieve sof $150 000

Asst Prosecutor Don Wolf and Chief Deputy Sheriff Ralph LePore left for the Texas city to determine what evidence Ohio County officials will be required to present at the forthcoming extradition hearings

The hearings will probably be held Friday or Saturday, Prosecutor Joseph A Gompers said for Jimmy Fugitt 34, and Harry Ward 43 both of Dallas

Both signed confessions admitting they took three strong boxes from the Warwood home of Dr W P Simmons Oct 13 At first they agreed to return to West Virginia, but later changed their minds

Extradition papers have been signed by Gov William C Marland of West Virginia and have been forwarded to Gov Allan Shivers of Texas

One of the points Wolf and LePore were to determine was whether it would be necessary for witnesses to appear at the extradition hearing

The witnesses would be Miss Hazel Sammons, the doctor's sister, or a maid, Ila Heffliey, both of whom were present during the holdup

If their presence is required, they probably would go to Dallas with other officers who will leave Wednesday, Gompers said The additional officers expected to leave are Wheeling Police Chief M A Baumann and State Police Cpl P B Swiger

Gompers said the women might be required to identify Fugitt and Ward even though they have confessed

Two others implicated in the unsolved holdup are in Ohio County Jail They are Mrs Mary Bilder son, 32, the alleged "finger woman," and Phillip Anderson 46, also of Dallas, who admitted planning the theft Anderson was arrested at Lima, Ohio

Police said they have recovered $96,447 78 of the $150,000 loot.

A number of Marion members of the Martha Kinney Cooper Ohioana Library Association attended the annual meeting of the association Saturday in the Neil House at Columbus.

The meeting was saddened by word of the death of Dallas Head, son of Mrs. Depew Head, executive secretary of the association, who was to preside for the day. She is retiring from her duties Dec. 31.

STEVE CANYON

By Milton Caniff

WHY, MR. CANYON, IMAGINE RUNNIN' INTO YOU IN THIS LIL' OL' UPSTAIRS SITTIN' ROOM! I DO DECLARE!
YOU SAID YOU'D BE HERE, MISS HALL... I CAME AS SOON AS I SPOKE WITH YOUR PARENTS!
OH, MR CANYON, YOU WERE JUST WON-DERFUL CARRYIN' MY BEAUTIFUL MOTHER AWAY FROM THE FIRE!
IF I HAD NO OTHER REASONS, THE FACT THAT YOU WERE CLEVER ENOUGH TO GET ME OUT OF THAT JAIL WOULD HAVE BEEN SUFFICIENT!
YOU MUST BE POPULAR IN SCHOOL TO HAVE KNOWN ABOUT ALL THE FRATERNITY SYMBOLS I THREW AT YOU..
IT'S RIGHT FLATTERIN' OF YOU TO SAY THAT, MR. CANYON, BUT WHO CARES ABOUT ME WHEN WE CAN BE TALKIN' ABOUT A MAN LIKE YOU —WHO'S PROBABLY SEEN JUST EV'RYTHING?
